EXPECT PEACE IN BALKANS THIS WEEK

BULLETIN
(By United Press.)

London, England, Nov. 18—The surrender of Monastir to the Servians was reported this afternoon in a message from Belgrade. Three Turkish generals and 45,000 Turkish soldiers were captured.

China and Russia
To Engage In War?
(By United Press.)

Peking, China, Nov. 18—A heavy movement of Chinese troops was in progress today towards Mongolia which Russia is trying to capture. President Yuan Shi Kai has apparently surrendered to the Chinese war party and hostilities against Russia were deemed inevitable.

(By United Press.)

Vienna, Austria, Nov. 18—Asserting that Turkey's claim that the Bulgarians have suffered a severe set back in their advance upon Constantinople, are true, it is agreed here that the allies will have to modify their demands and make peace with the Turks in short order.

Greece has not completely exhausted its resources but Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro have sent every available man to the front and winter is now closing in on the Balkans. The Bulgarians must either advance or fall back as it will be impossible to camp in the open. A retreat and cessation of hostilities until spring would give Turkey an opportunity to recruit its fighting force enormously from Asia before the spring campaign. The allies, it seems, should be very anxious to end the war for that reason. With cholera devastating its ranks Turkey too will be anxious for peace. Twelve thousand Turks are reported to have died of the disease during the past week, according to a dispatch from the Frankfort Gazette.

The widest fancy cannot picture the scenes along the defense lines, says the Gazette correspondent. Soldiers fell dead with guns in their hands. The railroad is lined with corpses. Dying men are kicked from trains. Three thousand wounded brought into San Stefano in box cars were left without medical attention or even food for 24 hours, begging piteously for water.

In several instances Bulgarians have been surprised at the cessation of resistance by the offenders of entrenchments and found the trenches filled with dead and dying Turks, cholera victims. The epidemic has reached such proportions as to seriously menace Europe, it is said.

(By United Press.)

Constantinople, Turkey, Nov. 18—The Turkish government today officially informed Germany which is looking after Turkey's interests in the Balkans that the Servians and Greeks are murdering the Turks in Albania.

Are Guarding
American Embassy
(By United Press.)

London, England, Nov. 18—British marines are guarding the United States embassy in Constantinople, according to a report received here today. Six men from the United States guardship Scorpin are also on guard. The situation in the Turkish capital is hourly growing more threatening for the Christians. Two thousand more blue jackets arrived there this afternoon.

Cholera
On Increase
(By United Press.)

Constantsta, Roumania, Nov. 18—The rate of increase in the number of cholera victims among the Turkish troops has reached 5000 daily, according to word received here today.

Johnson Injured By Mule

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 18—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was again a prisoner today. Freed on bail awaiting trial on the charge of violating the Mann white slave law and assault and battery, he was confined to his room with a wrenched ankle which he sustained while trying to break a Texas broncho which had never been ridden before. The broncho laid down on his foot.

SOUTHERN BANK SAFE BLOWN

(By Associated Press.)

Kingston, Tenn., Nov. 18—Robbers blew open the vault in the Kingston Bank and Trust Company early today and secured $1,300 in cash and escaped. The charge of the explosion was so heavy that the books and currency in the vault were torn into shreds.

AUTO HIT HOG, RIDER'S ARM FRACTURED

(By United Press.)

Marysville, O., Nov. 18—Miss Anna Drake, a school teacher of West Mansfield, is suffering from a fracture of the right shoulder and several ribs as the result of an auto accident when the machine struck a 400 pound hog in York township last night. The auto was thrown into a rail fence and Miss Drake landed on top of the fence. In the party were Orville Parish, Ray Gilsaver, Miss Anna Sterritt and Miss Drake.

Robert Leedom, of No. 1643 Twelfth street, was taken to Hemipstead hospital by Lynn's ambulance Monday morning, and underwent an immediate operation for appendicitis.

GOVERMENT PLANS A BIG RAID ON FAKERS

(By Associated Press.)

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 18—Government officials and post office inspectors in many cities will make an effort to arrest a number of men who are wanted for complicity with alleged frauds which resulted in the loss of many thousands of dollars to unsuspecting persons. Five of those to be arrested were indicted by the United States grand jury here last month.

The men, it is alleged, operated against individuals and corporations that desired to place stocks or bonds on the market. It was said that among others the officers of the American Redemption Co., of Rochester, N. Y., the Chicago Debenture Company of Chicago, and affiliated offices in other cities will be raided simultaneously.

(By Associated Press.)

Cleveland, O., Nov. 18—In a raid on the office of Horace D. Hastings & Co. today federal officers arrested F. D. Minyard, the manager in charge for using the mails to defraud in connection with operations of S. D. Minyard & Co., of Cincinnati. The officers said the raid was simultaneous with that in other cities.

Will Be Tried
In Cincinnati.
(By Associated Press.)

Cincinnati, Nov. 18.—Members of the alleged fraudulent brokers ring arrested in Rochester, Cleveland, Chicago and New Jersey, will be brought back to Cincinnati for trial by the federal court, according to information given out today by Federal Judge McPherson.

WHITE SLAVE VIOLATORS

(By Associated Press.)

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 18—Arrested Saturday night in a raid Ben Davis and Dick Johnson, negroes, of Chicago and Milwaukee, were given a preliminary hearing today on charges of violating the white slave act. It was charged they brought girls to this city from Illinois and Wisconsin.

Victim Of Maniac Is Laid To Rest

(By United Press.)

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 18.—With his mother in a critical condition from the shock, the body of little Joseph Josephs, the victim of the mysterious maniac murderer, whose body was found Saturday in a vault, was buried today. Every business house and factory in Lackawana, the boy's home, was closed.

Police Chief Gusson, of Lackawana, who is in charge of the case, said today that there was one man, a wealthy resident of Buffalo, who will be questioned as to his movements during the month of October. He said he personally intended to force the man to account for all his movements during the period in 1911, when the Joseph boy is believed to have been slain.

(By United Press.)

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 18—It was stated on good police authority today that the slayer of little Jos. Joseph is known to the police of Buffalo, Lackawanna and Boston.

It was learned today that the alleged murderer of the boy was employed up to a year ago by the Lackawanna Steel Company, that he was well connected socially, that when in his right mind he was a valuable employ of the steel plant, that frequently he was absent from the steel city for weeks at a time and that he was finally discharged. It is understood that up to Sunday a week ago he was in Boston. The postal card telling of the child's whereabouts was mailed from Boston.

HUNTING ACCIDENT

(By United Press.)

Delaware, O., Nov. 18—Roy Tanner, 18, lost his left arm today while hunting. He set his shotgun down too heavily and the charge tore away the arm and lacerated his face.

Modern Woodmen Are Up In Arms

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 18.—Representatives of the insurgent element among the 45,000 Ohio members of the Modern Woodmen of America met here today to organize with the ultimate intention of ousting the present national officers and simplifying the organization which furnishes fraternal insurance to 1,250,000 people in America.

"Within the past year rates have increased between 38 and 50 per cent," said T. H. Roberts of Cleveland, one of the leaders of the Ohio revolt.

"It is merely an attempt on the part of some officers to gain control of the organization for their own private ends," said N. C. Sherburne, of Newark, Ohio, state deputy, who is the chief officer of the 421 camps in Ohio.

The insurgent movement is headed nationally by John L. Sundean, of Minneapolis, Minn., who is in Columbus organizing the state forces.

SCHILLING TO GET JOB AS MAYOR

(By United Press.)

Canton, O., Nov. 18—With council's finance committee's approval of the bond of Harry S. Schilling, Socialist, declared by the count to have been elected over Mayor Turnbull, council is expected to approve the bond tonight and Schilling will become mayor tomorrow morning. Mayor Turnbull said today that he would give the glad hand to Schilling when he turns over his office to him. Schilling will advocate a number of law enforcement rules.

Eli West Upheld

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 18.—Circuit court today upheld Eli West as receiver of the Columbus, Delaware & Marion railway, whom J. H. Catrow had sought to oust. Attorney O. M. Gottschall's claim of $16,000 fees was cut to $5,000 by the court.

ALLENS ARE REFUSED A NEW TRIAL

(By United Press.)

Richmond, Va., Nov. 18—Virginia's supreme court today refused a new trial to Floyd Allen and his son, Claude Swanson Allen, condemned to die Friday for their part in the murders in Judge Massie's court at Hillsville last March. Friends of the doomed men at once appealed to Governor Mann for commutation of sentences. Allen's prospects for getting a stay of the electrocution are meagre.

GOV. WILSON AT BERMUDA

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 18—A cable message via Quebec from the steamship Bermudian with Governor Wilson and family on board says that the ship arrived at Hamilton, Bermuda, at 8:30 this morning.

Shot Boy Instead Of Quail

(By Associated Press.)

Circleville, O., Nov. 18—Guy Candy, nine, son of John Candy, Pickaway farmer, is dead, the victim of a shooting accident last Saturday.

John Crawford, fired at a covey of quail and the charge blew off young Candy's face. The boy lived 24 hours.

MISS FARLEY TO GO ON THE STAND, MOTHER'S VIEWS

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 18.—"My daughter is the victim of the dual code of morality by which a man is always free to do as he pleases and the woman is always the sufferer," today declared Mrs. James Farley, mother of Cecelia Farley, who is now on trial for the murder of Alvin E. Zollinger.

"Cecelia met Zollinger in a socially regular way. How can a girl of 16 read the intentions of a man twelve years her senior? It was two years before she knew he was a married man, and then he had so completely won her love that she could not withdraw it. Later he so intimidated her that she could not cast him aside. He was a married man but had no regard for the marriage vows.

"The public blames my daughter for the trouble she is in and does not stop to point the finger of shame at the man who wronged her. This is a man's world."

Miss Farley is expected to take the witness stand in her own behalf either late today or early tomorrow.

Character witnesses for Miss Farley testified at this morning's session of court.

When Miss Farley takes the stand late today or tomorrow morning she will go into details as to her relations with Zollinger and will tell the jury of how Zollinger wanted to kill both her and Jerome Quigley to whom she was engaged to be married. She will also demonstrate on the witness stand how the advertising man was shot while trying to take a revolver from her hand bag which she was carrying.

Mrs. Alfred Arnold, who was formerly Miss Pearl Lous, at whose home Miss Farley lived for two years again took the witness stand today and told of how she had begged Zollinger to quit paying attentions to Miss Farley. Mrs. Arnold also identified a telegram sent the defendant at Pittsburgh as being in Zollinger's handwriting. The telegram was signed by Dr. A. C. Holland, registrar of the state bureau of vital statistics where Miss Farley worked and read: "Important that you report at the office Sunday morning."

The greater part of the day was given over to the hearing of character witnesses for the defense.

Expecting that Miss Farley would take the stand in her own behalf this afternoon and anxious to get a look at the girl more than 600 persons, the majority of them women, crowded the narrow limit of the criminal court room this afternoon. In their anxiety to see the defendant six women perched themselves upon a mantle shelf which is six feet from the ground.

PLEADING FOR GUN MEN

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 18—For three hours today the jury in the supreme court listened to Charles Wahle's plea for the four gunmen charged with the killing of Gambler Herman Rosenthal. The state will sum up all the arguments this afternoon and the case will go to the jury late tonight or tomorrow. Mr. Wahle devoted the greater part of his attack upon the state's informers, Rose, Vallon, Weber and Sheps.

PROSECUTOR AND JUDGE IN SENSATIONAL CLASH, VOTE BUYING THE CAUSE

(By United Press.)

Steubenville, O., Nov. 18—Prosecutor J. S. Paisley of Jefferson county and Common Pleas Judge R. C. Richards clashed in court today over the postponment of the grand jury investigation of alleged vote trafficking in that county. Attorney General Hogan and Prosecutor Paisley agreed at a conference Saturday to postpone the probe until Joseph McGhee, Hogan's first assistant, who is busy at this time in Hamilton county, can assist him.

Paisley dismissed the grand jurors this morning and was taken to task by Richards.

"The fair name of Jefferson county is being besmirched by the report spread broadcast," declared the judge. "I want an immediate investigation either to establish the guilt or innocence of those charged with vote buying and vote selling. I do not believe conditions as bad as reported."

Paisley said he wanted time to collect evidence in the cases.

Richards threatened to appoint a special counsel and Paisley said he would not turn over to any such officer the evidence he had collected. Judge Richards called the dismissed grand jury this afternoon. Paisley is upheld by Attorney General Hogan.

Puts It Up To
Attorney General Hogan
(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 18—Prosecutor Paisley, of Jefferson county, today told Attorney General Hogan over the telephone of the unexpected complications that had arisen in the Jefferson county probe of vote buying and was advised by the attorney general not to issue subpoenas for witnesses at the present time. Paisley told Hogan that he will not proceed with the investigation until he can have the help of the state. Judge Richards has power to appoint a new prosecuting attorney to hear the cases.

Incorporate

(By Associated Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 18—Among the incorporation papers taken out today were the following:

The Circleville Bowling Alley Company, $25,000. C. E. Stout, T. W. Stout and Frank A. Lyng.

The Chillicothe Realty Company $10,000. Alex Renick, R. G. Houp and John A. Poland.

Yep, quail is a scarce article these days. But get onto the weather I'm giving you. That's all you asked when the law opened and I've not missed it for a single day. Swell dope for tomorrow. Here it is:

OHIO—Fair tonight; Tuesday warmer.

KENTUCKY—Fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer.

WYOMING MAN CHOPPED OFF HIS MOTHER'S HEAD

(By United Press.)

Rawlins, Wyoming, Nov. 18—Upbraided by his mother for abusing his sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Ryder, Melvin Davis, 25, a miner, seized a rifle, fired at Mrs. Ryder, chased her into the yard and then beheaded her with an axe. Davis was later captured by a posse. Two of Mrs. Ryder's six children witnessed the murder and begged him not to kill her.

The blow from the axe severed the neck leaving the head hanging by a shred of flesh only.

One of the children fell upon the ground and grasping the mother's head tried to replace it.

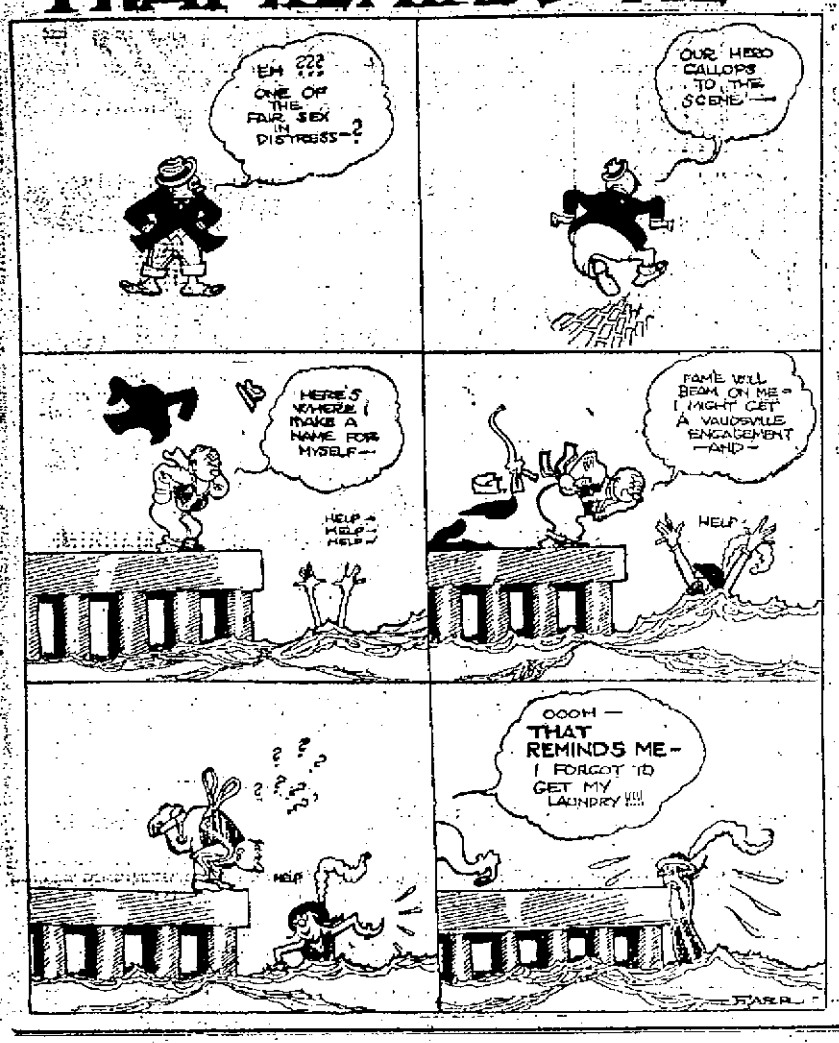

Aha, Bath Tub Trust Is Busted

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 18—The supreme court of the United States today upheld the decree of dissolution against the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company and allied concerns known as the Bath Tub Trust.

The trust has been ordered dissolved as a combination in restraint of trade despite its contention was an invasion of patent right. The fight was begun over a year ago against bath tub and enamel ware manufacturers. Justice McKenna delivered the unanimous opinion of the court.

THAT REMINDS ME—

BOOTLEGGERS STILL THRIVE, TWO FINED BY THE MAYOR, BIG BUSINESS IN COURT

That "bootleggers" operate in Portsmouth on Sundays was developed in two cases heard in police court Monday morning.

David "Peggy" Foster, a negro cripple, was convicted of illegally selling whiskey to Vivian Bayliss and fined $50 and costs. Foster had pleaded not guilty and vigorously denied the charge, but Bayliss and Bud Richards gave damaging testimony against him. Officer Rome Arthur also told of having shadowed Bayliss and Richards Sunday morning and seeing Foster come out of a building near Tenth and John streets just after the white men did. Mayor Tynes gave Foster the maximum fine because he had not admitted the truth. Bayliss was fined $10 for drunkenness, as it was his third appearance in court.

Alex Kitchen, a Carter county, Ky., man, who had come here Saturday night to get work at New Boston, only to get drunk Sunday, told the court he had bought his whiskey from a middle aged stranger on Front street, who had invited him up an alley. He gave the man 75 cents, he said. Kitchen was ordered held pending an investigation of his story.

Sherley Miller was fined $15 and Oscar Spencer $10 for a disturbance they created in the West End about 3 o'clock Sunday morning. They are West Side young men and had been to a dance at the Clifford home on Stony Run. They repeatedly bantered William Brown, hostler for Dr. Jos. Gill, who was returning from the same dance in another surrey, to race with them. Finally after reaching the city they provoked Brown into leaving his surrey, he declaring his willingness, if necessary, to fight it out with them. They instead drove on and a moment later a pistol shot was heard. Officers found the two young men badly drunk and a loaded revolver in their buggy. Miller claimed he had found the pistol in the buggy and that he did not know the owner. This feature of his story was discredited by the mayor, but as the young man has always borne a good reputation he decided to be lenient with him.

Milton Young, an N. & W. yard brakeman, was fined $10 and costs for assaulting a fellow employe, Jarvis Farmer, with a lantern last Friday night. Young said Farmer had been aggravating him for sometime past and threatening to cause him to lose his job and that he was despised by every man working in the East Portsmouth yards. He was told that even if his statements were true that he should have availed himself of other recourses, and was advised to behave himself in the future.

It was the second appearance for Allen Richards, caged West End citizen, and he was fined $10 for drunkenness. William George, August Ashtels and Jim Johnson, plain drunks, drew $5 each. John Boydston, an old offender, was not given the formality of a hearing and will be held until he has sovered up.

The case of Ed Price, who while drunk had some trouble with Conductor Tipton aboard a street car near Eleventh and Lincoln streets, was continued until Wednesday morning. After being ejected from the car, Price struck Officer Canterberry, then took to his heels only to fall down. A loaded revolver was found nearby and he will therefore also answer to the additional charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Charges of arson have been placed against Ernest and Clyde Nelson, who will be tried Wednesday morning. The two brothers are accused of firing a one-story shanty on the Cole boulevard and owned by Mrs. Ernest Herman, of Ninth street, Saturday night.

The brothers of Ernest's wife and child have been occupying the shanty during the corn shucking season. Neighbors were attracted to them carrying a bed tick out of the place and, it is alleged, heard them exclaim, "We'll burn the d—— place down." An instant later smoke was noticed issuing from the shanty and soon it was enveloped in flames. It burned with great rapidity, which caused the neighbors to believe that kerosene had been poured on the floors and walls before matches were applied. Ernest Nelson had previously driven his wife and child from the shanty. As soon as the shanty was destroyed the two brothers started toward the city. A neighbor followed on a bicycle and notified the police, who arrested them on Seventeenth street. The value of the burned property has been fixed at $50, which is sufficient to send the two to the penitentiary, if convicted.

Trouble In Heaps For Jack McClellan

The troubles of Jack Edwards, better known as McClellan, a barber and professional boxer, are coming in heaps.

Jack was shot in the leg during a recent mixup with some North End young men, the facts of which are to be heard in police court Tuesday morning. On Monday Jack was served with a summons to the insolvency court in Cincinnati, his wife having brought a divorce suit against him for alleged neglect. She asks that she be restored to her maiden name of Evelyn Butler. The couple had two children but both are dead.

McClellan has retained Attorney Theo. K. Funk to defend him in his police court case Tuesday.

PLANNED FOR THANKSGIVING

At the meeting of the ministerial association held Monday morning, it was decided to abandon the district Thanksgiving services which were planned two weeks ago, and allow the different churches to conduct their own special services.

The district services will not be held because of several of the ministers having already made other plans for their Thanksgiving services.

Retain Title To Cemetry

Attorney William J. Meyer, acting for St. Mary's congregation, served notice upon Director of Public Service John M. Williams Monday that while it was permitting the city to build a sewer across its cemetery property, this was not to be construed by the city as the relinquishment of its title to the land.

LUCASVILLE STORE SCENE OF FIRE

A lighted cigar thrown carelessly near the general store of Brant & Appel, of Lucasville, Saturday evening, set fire to one of the sills supporting the store. Late pedestrians discovered the flames creeping along the floor and up the front of the store. An alarm sounded aroused the owners of the store and nearby residents and a bucket brigade hurriedly formed did yeomen work in extinguishing the flames.

A loss of $50 was suffered by the building, but the owners consider themselves fortunate in not losing the entire store. Had the flames received a few more minutes liberty in which to spread, the store would have been doomed, with only Lucasville's limited fire-fighting facilities to cope with the situation.

SOCIALISTS DISCUSSED PARTY'S VOTE

The big gains made throughout the union in the recent election by the Socialist party was the subject of much discussion at the regular meeting of the Socialist local held Sunday afternoon.

There was a good attendance at the session, which was both a social and business one.

Much favorable comment was centive to strive for greater things heard on the big vote received by the party, and which will be on in next time.

Big Crowd At Dance

All records for the number of couples that have attended a dance at Kendall's hall were broken Saturday night, when 140 couples enjoyed the hop given under the auspices of the Gala club. It was one of the most brilliant Saturday night dances conducted under this organization. The music furnished by the Guste Trio was of the high-class order, and as in the past, was the source of much of the success of the evening.

FIRE DEPARTMENT WAS CALLED OUT TWO TIMES

One call Saturday night and another Sunday afternoon constituted the two days' work of the local fire department. A barrel of trash catching fire in a mysterious manner in a barn in the rear of Freshour's grocery, Saturday night, summoned the East End department. Several buckets of water quenched the flames before the department arrived.

A fire box standing open proved too much of a temptation for some mischievous youth Sunday, and the department was called to Box 61, corner of Sixth and Findlay streets, when the lad pulled the lever. It was a false alarm, pure and simple, with not a trace of a fire. The chief learned that the box had been standing open and had given access to some unknown person, mischievously bent.

FIXING UP THE CLUB ROOMS

Work of laying the carpet and installing the fixtures in the Portsmouth Motorcycle Club's new home was commenced Monday morning. At a meeting of the club Sunday afternoon a committee composed of Tide Davenport, Ray Starling and Spencer Gowdy was appointed to assume the responsibility of purchasing fixtures for the room. The quarters are to be handsomely furnished.

FINE COMEDY NEXT MONDAY

"When Banty Pulls the Strings" comes to the Grand Monday, November 25. It is one of the best comedies in recent years and ran a whole year in New York. The management of the Grand anticipate exceedingly large business with this attraction. It was recently in Cincinnati and two extra matinees had to be given to accommodate the crowds that were anxious to see this great play.

Mrs. George H. Sheppard, who is suffering with a general breakdown, was reported no better Monday.

TWINS WERE RELEASED

Homer and Everett Roberts, the colored boys arrested on suspicion of tapping a till at the U. S. Laundry office, were ordered released from the county jail by Judge Beatty, Sunday.

The Judge made an investigation and was not satisfied that the boys were guilty, in fact both he and Sheriff John Eckhart concluded that there must be something back of the robbery, and in the absence of any proof that the boys had committed it, did not want to hold them in jail any longer.

SOUR, GASSY, SICK STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" Overcomes your Indigestion In Five Minutes

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little diapepsin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

You are doing yourself an injustice, and depriving yourself of a great deal of satisfaction if you are not saving money.

Infernal Machine Figures In the Trial Of The Dynamiters

(By Associated Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 18.—Blackened pieces of infernal machines which figured in the explosion at Los Angeles on October 1, 1910, when 21 lives were lost, when the Times building was blown up, were identified today at the dynamite trial here. Events involving the handling of nitroglatin with which James B. McNamara caused the explosion, were first described by William Flynn, employed in a powder factory there. Flynn testified that on September 20, 1910, he packed in boxes 600 pounds of nitroglatin to be delivered to the launch used by James B. McNamara. That was ten days before the Los Angeles Times building was blown up.

PENITENTIARY IS READY FOR CONVICTED SENATORS

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., Nov. 18—Unless the supreme court intervenes and reviews legislative bribery cases Senator L. R. Andrews of Ironton and Senator Isaac E. Huffman, of Butler county, may eat their Christmas dinners behind the walls of the Ohio penitentiary with Rodney J. Diegel, former senate sergeant at arms who is serving a three year sentence for bribery.

The circuit court has upheld the conviction of the two senators overruling every claim of error presented by the defense.

Attorney C. E. Belcher for Andrews and Huffman said today he would ask a stay of execution in common pleas court until he can apply for leave this week to file the cases in supreme court on error.

The lower court held that the two legislators must serve terms in the penitentiary, Huffman three years and Andrews nine months.

STRIKERS USING THEIR FIRE ARMS

(By Associated Press.)

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 18.—Armed men fired on the town of Standard, on Paint Creek this afternoon. While the shooting was in progress for some time no one was wounded. An hour later a train load of strike breakers on the Cabin Creek branch of the C. & O. railroad was fired upon. A squad of militia on board returned the fire. Twenty-five arrests were made by the martial law officers. The men arrested will be tried before a military commission at Paint Creek Junction. Among those arrested were three women.

Did Not Urge Strike Murder

(By Associated Press.)

Salem, Mass., Nov. 18—Alturo Giovinnitti, charged with Joseph Ettor and Joseph Caruse with the murder of Anna Lopizzo, testified on the stand today that he never urged the strikers to riot. He declared he preached sermons to them about their condition. Giovinnitti told in stirring language his part in the Lawrence struggle.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair To Its Natural Color

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair, long after middle life, was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, keeps the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and lustre and makes it grow.

"Machinists' Union, No. 349, will give a dance in Kendall Hall on Thanksgiving eve. The music will be furnished by the Columbian orchestra.

GOOD SHOTS IN CITY

With three men tied for the shooting honors in the race for the turkey at Chas. Gibson's Chillicothe street shooting gallery, Gus Mossberg stepped into the gallery Monday afternoon and took the lead. He hung up a score of 29, one point less than the highest that can be attained. The contest lasts until the night of November 27, and a perfect score will no doubt be registered by that time.

AUTOS WERE STUCK

Tourists on the West Side Sunday experienced much trouble in plowing their way through a patch of loose gravel placed on the road by the county commissioners. Several cars became stuck and it required the assistance of passing machines to extricate them from the gravel.

EXCITING TRIP IN THE STRIKE ZONE

J. P. Demint of Jefferson street, passed through the strike zone in West Virginia Friday, and does not care to repeat the experience, although he was not injured in the least.

Mr. Demint was on his way to Montgomery, W. Va., to visit his son, Leslie, who is engaged in business there. After reaching Charleston, Mr. Demint boarded a train which traverses the zone of the strikers. He stated that the engineer kept tooting the whistle and that the train not only proceeded at a snail pace, but was stopped every once in a while and the guards on the train would make a detour to see if everything was safe. Mr. Demint states that every passenger kept his head "ducked" down in a seat for fear a bullet might come whizzing through the window. He did not breathe easy, he said, until he reached Montgomery, where he found his son well and prosperous.

Country House Is Destroyed By Fire

Fire of an unknown origin broke out in the house of Ralph Simpson, located several miles north of Lucasville, on the West Side road, shortly after the supper hour Sunday evening, and in a short time entirely consumed the dwelling. All efforts to check the flames were futile. The only things saved were several pieces of household furniture.

The dwelling, a two-story frame, was completely destroyed, as were most of the contents. Mr. Simpson's loss is several thousand dollars, only partially covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Webb, Misses Edna Webb and Tha Williamson and Mrs. Carol Pray spent Sunday with Miss Hazel McKinley in Lucasville.

Mrs. C. N. Smith's Sunday school class of Trinity will meet Tuesday evening with Miss Cora Morrison, at 1528 Summit street. The assistant hostesses are Misses Gladys Lintz, Geneva Lewis, Hattie McElhaney, Gertrude Morris, Cora Morrison, Edith Lindsay, Alma Gulker and Mrs. Ralph Loft.

The following was copied from the musical notes in the Cincinnati Enquirer of Sunday:

"Frederick J. Hoffmann, pianist of the College of Music faculty, is engaged for several recitals to be given in the next few weeks. Mr. Hoffmann's large classes at the college will permit him to accept but few recital engagements, and these will be more as a courtesy to former pupils and their musical clubs than anything else. November 21 he is to appear at Portsmouth, O., and early in December he will perform at several cities between here and Pineville, Ky. Mrs. Hoffmann will be assisted by Giacinto Gorno, the well-known baritone and teacher of the college faculty. Tuesday evening Mr. Hoffmann played at Hamilton, Ohio.

Mr. Hoffmann and Sig. Gorno are to appear here Thursday, Nov. 21, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church. The interesting program, which is promised, will be published later.

Mrs. Edgar Wilson, of Wheelersburg, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller at dinner this evening.

The marriage bans of Miss Sallie Fried, of this city, and Mr. Adam Maurer, of Columbus, were published for the first time Sunday in Holy Redeemer church. Miss Fried is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fried, of Eleventh street.

Merle Roach, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Roach, of 1553 Third street, while returning from school at the noon hour today, had the misfortune to fall on a piece of glass, nearly severing her thumb on the left hand.

The Busy Workers' class of the First Baptist church will meet on Tuesday evening in the church.

The New Hope class of the First Baptist church will meet Thursday evening with Mrs. Charles Whitaker, of 2016 Fourteenth street.

The Mission Circle of the First Baptist church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. T. H. McAfee.

The First Baptist Ladies' Aid Society will have a sale of edibles and fancy articles on Saturday of this week at the gas office.

The Modern Priscilla club will meet with Mrs. Maurice Coe, of Timmonds avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, instead of Thursday, as previously announced.

The Senior West Minster Guild of the Second Presbyterian church met this afternoon in regular session in the chapel, with Mrs. J. C. Scott. Mrs. Paul Revaro and Miss Hazel Drew as hostesses.

Two deferred papers on missions were read by Mrs. Albert Marting and Mrs. Walter Smith.

Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Cox have returned to their home in South Webster after a week's visit with Portsmouth relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ellis left for their home in Cortland, Monday. They have been here at the bedside of his brother, Merchant Policeman James Ellis, who has been very ill, but is now much better.

Misses Bertha Addis, Theresa Mullen, Ida Barnhart, Verna Mullen, of this city, were the guests of Miss Eva Townsend, of the West Side, Sunday. They took a walk down to the infirmary and were so tired they thought of asking for quarters there, but a couple of small boys came along opportunely and gave them a lift back to the Townsend home.

Messrs. Floyd Kent, Harry Woolsey and Charlie Fishburn and Misses Laura Nagle, Mamie Beechly, Effie Crabtree, Mollie Barnhart and Eva Townsend made a jolly party that spent Sunday on the West Side.

Arthur O'Connor, of Columbus, will spend Thanksgiving with his aunts, Mrs. W. J. Drugan and the Misses O'Connor, of Eleventh street.

Mrs. W. L. Bayless, of Lincoln Hill, was the guest Saturday of her aunt, Mrs. A. C. Depuy, in Ashland, Ky.

The Frances Badger Guild of All Saints church will meet tonight with Mrs. William Bridges.

Murl Riggs, a popular young steelworker, is having more than his share of trouble with pet boils. One has formed squarely on the end of his nose and another on his right knee.

DRAPED EVENING GOWN.

The draping of the evening gowns of the season is in many cases carried out most skilfully. The rich green velvet of a lovely princess dress is draped closely around the figure to the left, where its folds are held in place with a series of flat ornaments of glittering stones, over a petticoat of the lace which is to be largely used this season, fine cream net embroidered in a bold design in the finest of white threads, the superposing of white on cream being most effective.

This petticoat, arranged on deep cream satin, is visible on the left side to the height of the knee, where it is encircled with a silk sash of apple green, falling in front with wide ends. The same brilliant green appears at the edge of the folds of the green velvet as they are drawn up across the chest from right to left, with the effect of a lining to the velvet just appearing.

BROCADE AND VELOURS.

The winter fashions are getting more and more alluring, and very pleasing are the little coats of brocade with their cut-away fronts and highwayman cuffs. These coats, like others of the swallow tailed and banded description, display an edging or trimming of fur, skunk apparently being first favorite. Many of us have been hoarding short lengths of brocade, velvet or satin, and rejoice that the present vogue gives us an opportunity of utilizing them. If the length be not quite sufficient for a blouse we are permitted to call into service a plain satin for its successful completion, as a combination of plain and fancy fabrics is a fashionable alliance this season.

Drap velour is carrying all before it, and in the finest quality is an ideal fabric for princess tailored robes as well as for coats and skirts. The more severe the design the more successful is the result, as one's furs supply the requisite trimming.

FINE WEATHER CLOTHES.

We are all too plone nowadays to have a Sunday best. "No, indeed," we exclaim, "it's a poor way to observe the Sabbath to make the day an excuse for putting on finery." (Very likely we spend our time more profitably in sleeping and eating and reading agreeable fiction.) Saturday afternoon is the business girl's day for best clothes and other people suit themselves to the occasion in hand.

But there is a good deal to be said in favor of the wisdom of keeping our new winter coat and skirt as a "best" suit and wearing it at first only on fine days. Many of the new velvet-faced woollen stuffs spot with the rain, no matter how well they are finished—one is ever inclined to stay especially if they are well polished. To some extent this is avoided when the material is thoroughly well damped, but even then it loses some of its desirable freshness on a damp day, and the suit that has been worn first of all in fine weather will have a much better chance of keeping that look of newness which we need to cling to, but which we are all of us now agreed adds so much to the smartness of our clothes.

ACCORDEON PLEATS.

The panier, which characterises many gowns in its usual form, has some interesting developments in others. A house gown has a skirt in which the material is arranged at either side in two wide, generous folds, one below the other, over a closely pleated underdress of the same material, which was also visible in front from waist to hem. The wide panier like folds lay absolutely flat against the figure, but were only lightly stitched to the under dress and resembled the panier very closely as the wearer moved.

Accordeon pleats, in every case kept very flat, will be fashionable this winter and sometimes smocking is brought in to relieve the severity of the pleats. The panier is, no doubt, responsible for bringing into high favor the coat shaped tunic which is to be seen on evening and house gowns alike, though particularly on the latter, when it is often outlined with fur of some kind.

John Mahan, a Kentucky farmer whose little son accidentally blew the top of his head off with a shotgun, killing himself instantly, Monday moved from Carey's Run to a house on Dry Run. The change was made by the parents because they could not bear to remain upon the scene of the tragedy any longer.

HAMMER AND PAINT

Several local parties are contemplating the establishment of a cigar store in the Selby Shoe company's vacant room on the corner of Gallia and John streets. Negotiations have been opened for the rental of the room with this in view.

Contractor Samuel L. Rice has the rebuilding of the county bridge at Pond Run completed, save for the floor, one-half of which is laid.

Dr. W. E. Gault is having repairs made to the brick wall along the west side of his residence lot on Second street.

Milton F. Shumway, of the contracting firm of Curtis & Shumway, returned Saturday morning from a week's business visit in Philadelphia and Washington. Mr. Shumway found that indications were his firm was the lowest bidder on another big contract job, but no definite announcement had yet been made when he left Washington.

The fine new brick store and residence of Andy Smith, of Union Mills, is now almost ready for the roof. Mr. Smith is also erecting a frame dwelling to the south of his brick property.

The government building, in which the postoffice is located, will likely be a dusty place for several days beginning Tuesday, when workmen will begin tearing down the partitions in the work room and knocking the plastering off the ceilings and walls. A board petition will be installed as a temporary preventative against the cool winds. The improvement will necessarily make the work room smaller than at present, but this will all be arranged satisfactorily when the new addition is completed.

SURVEY FOR NEW DAM

Three United States engineers arrived in the city Sunday from Cinnati, and early Monday morning began making surveys on the new government dam, to be built below Portsmouth by the Sheridan-Kirk Contracting Company.

Boys Stoned Freight Train

Two small boys who gave their names as Bates and Heid, will be brought into police court this evening, to answer to the charge of throwing rocks Saturday night at a passing N. & W. freight train near the Offnere street crossing. One of the rocks struck Fireman John Moore in the eye, causing a painful injury. The boys were hunted down by Officer Charles Flowers, who ordered them into court.

Hopes For Railway

Ben Baglin, former East Portsmouth restaurant man, now a farmer of Tygart Valley, Ky., was a visitor in the city Monday. Mr. Baglin reported that there is some let up to the talk of new railroads through that valley, but he believes that a road is sure to come some day. He believes that the last survey made, and which John O. Homer, of the Kentucky North and South, sought to enjoin, was for the B. & O. S.-W., which owns extensive coal fields in Shelby county, Ky., and vicinity and is seeking an outlet to the Ohio river.

Will Sell Bonds

The finance committee of city council and the city auditor will conduct the sale of $130,000 additional water works bonds at the city building, Tuesday noon. Bids will be opened and the finance committee will recommend the awarding of the bonds to the highest bidder.

Potatoes Are Higher

Commission merchants on Monday reported the price of potatoes soaring, they bringing 66 cents delivered in carload lots. The advance is attributed to the fact that owing to a blight in New York all Michigan and Minnesota potatoes are being shipped east.

J. H. Day and family, Jacob Leightley and Mrs. Mollie Leightley and son, Tom, were visiting Arthur Kennett and family, Monday.

Arthur Robinson returned home Sunday from Idaho, where he has had employment for the past eighteen months.

BEFORE AND AFTER.

Blair Going After Adams Co. Officials

With his war paint on Judge Blair went to West Union Monday to hold a session of court. There are rumblings that something heavy is liable to drop soon in Adams county in connection with the recent campaign and election there, which is expected to cause a decided sensation. The matter is believed to contemplate actions to oust certain county officers and prevent other officers-elect from assuming their positions by reason of alleged misconduct.

North End Grocers Closed Up Sunday

The North End grocers to a man observed the edit of Judge Blair to keep their places of business closed on Sundays They, however, kept a weather eye on their competitors to see that the law was enforced. Two or three of the grocers supplied their customers with milk but you couldn't have bought a plug of tobacco or a pound of sugar for love nor money.

"Doc" Goodpastor had gone to Judge Blair and informed him that besides a full stock of groceries he carried fresh meats and wanted to know if he could sell the meat on Sundays.

"No, sir," said the judge, with emphasis.

"Well, I keep several tons of coal to supply poor people who are not able to buy a load at a time. I sell it by the bucketful. May I supply them with fuel on Sundays?" inquired Mr. Goodpaster. "If you sell a pound of meat or coal on Sundays, I'll fine you the limit," replied the Judge.

On Sunday morning a poor fellow applied for a bushel of coal and was promptly turned down by Goodpaster. "If you want any coal from my pile on Sundays," said Mr. Goodpaster, "you will have to bring along an order from Judge Blair." "Doc" evidently is going to see that there is no violation of the Sunday closing ordinance at his place of business.

Aged Man Bitten By A Mad Dog

When James Hodge, 73 years of age, of 1001 Mill street, was bitten by a dog the other day, little did he think the animal was mad.

However, a report in the shape of a telegram received by Dr. Harry A. Schirrmann, Monday, from the state chemist at Columbus, conveys the intelligence that the dog was afflicted with the rabies.

Shortly after the dog had attacked Mr. Hodge the animal was killed and its head sent to Columbus with the result of the above diagnosis.

Dr. Schirrmann cauterized the wound caused by the dog's fangs. Mr. Hodge will now undergo special treatment and the physician is quite certain he will experience no trouble from his wound.

Gives Up His Job

Joseph Fussnecker, who has been employed at the Play House ever since the place was opened, has resigned his place and will likely secure a place at the steel plant.

The Western and Southern Life Insurance company has just repainted and deapered its offices on the fourth floor of the Masonic Temple.

Hit Buggy

Andy Henderson, a West Side farmer, while coming up town with a hay wagon, collided with and slightly damaged James Maxwell's buggy near Second and Massie streets Monday afternoon.

MR. BRUNNER COMES BACK

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brunner, who for some years past have been located in St. Joseph, Mo., arrived here Monday to again make this city their home. Mr. Brunner will become associated with his brothers in the dry goods business. This firm hopes to occupy its elegant new building on Gallia street sometime n January.

ENJOYING AUTO TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. D. Anderson, who left here last Thursday for an auto trip through Columbus, Springfield, Washington C. H. and Mechaniesburg, have written friends here that ideal weather has been encountered at all points and the roads are in splendid condition in that part of the state. The Anderson car is being driven by Paul Slade.

LAW'S LATEST STUNT DEFIED DYNAMITE, AIR AND WATER

Rodman Law, who has jumped from every bridge he considers worth jumping from around New York City; has jumped from several high buildings and from the Statue of Liberty, startled even those who know his daring the other day, when he sailed out over the Hudson River in a baloon and at the height of 450 feet, exploded a large quantity of dynamite in his baloon, destroying it and dropping into the water. The report of the exploded dynamite startled the whole city and Law's drop into the water caused several women who were passing on ferry boats to faint. The picture shows him just after he landed in the Hudson. Apparently his nerves (if he has any) were not shaken by the stunt.

SOCIETY

The Junior League of the Bigelow Methodist church visited the county infirmary Sunday afternoon and gave an enjoyable song service. The members who spent the afternoon at the home were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Graham, Miss Ple Hammond, Misses Marie Becker, Ruth Fitch and Hortense Ball.

William R. (Pete) Newman and Miss Grace Hackworth, a prominent young Rarden couple, came to town Monday and were wedded, Squire Byron performing the ceremony at the court house. The bride, who is a daughter of Mrs. Susan Hackworth is an estimable young woman while Mr. Newman is a son of Constable "Rocky" Newman and he is a sterling young man. The newly weds returned to Rarden this afternoon where they will reside.

An interesting meeting of the King's Herald's and Little Light Bearers was held at Bigelow church Saturday afternoon, twenty-one members being presnet in response to Thanksgiving cards sent out by the leaders, bearing the following verso of invitation:

"Dear King's Heralds and L. L. B.'s,
We're sending a box far over the seas,
Our little African friends to please.
Stocking or 'kerchief, needle or pin,
Any small gift, just please bring it in;
Bright bags of silk or of ribbon a yard—
Perhaps they would like a nice Xmas card.
Towels, combs or brushes, however small,
Giving will surely bring blessings to all."

Many donations were received for the mission box, which is to be sent to Miss Emily Smith at Algers, Algeria, Africa.

The program consisted of the usual devotional exercises, a duet, by Misses Martha Phillips and Helen Brehmer and a talk to the children by Mrs. W. D. Gilliland, which was given in the form of an imaginary voyage across the ocean and a journey from Naples to Rome, visiting the catacombs of that ancient city and contrasting the hardships of the early Christians who worshiped there, with the privileges we enjoy as Christians today, and touching also upon the life of devotion and tragic death of their musician, Saint Cecelia.

Owing to the untiring efforts of the retiring superintendent, Mrs. H. M. Baker, this little mission band is in a flourishing condition as shown by their interest and the number of new members added recently. The following new names were added to the membership Saturday: John and Jean Cole, Charles and Elizabeth Ogier and Virginia Blake.

Miss Ruth Fitch was chosen as organist for the year, Miss Martha Phillips as treasurer, and Helen Brehmer as secretary.

The members were then taken in charge by the hostess, Mrs. Harry Stanley, who served refreshments of fine fruits.

The next meeting will be held on December 21.

Mr. J. Lester Miller, of Columbus, was the guest over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Thomas, of Fourth street.

P. J. Cannon, of Columbus, is here this week, taking up ties for J. J. Pieper & Company.

Miss Kate Kress, of Cincinnati, is the guest of relatives here.

Mrs. Leroy Hazelbaker and children and Miss Susie White were shopping at Portsmouth, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Flannigan have moved into John Weghort's property on Tucker street.

Mr. Samuel Mitchell of Friendship, is visiting at the home of his son, Mr. Edward Mitchell.

Edward Boland, who accidentally shot himself while hunting more than three weeks ago, and who was thought to be rapidly recovering, became suddenly worse Monday, and is now not expected to live.

Samuel and John Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Moore, Oscar Elmore and Lon King were stripping tobacco for James Gregory, Tuesday. Mr. Gregory says he wants his tobacco among the first on market. He will deliver it at Rome.

Tom Douglas, of McGaw, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, Saturday.

DOLLAR FARMING No. 7

You don't plant watermelons and cantaloupes in the same row with pumpkins, and cucumbers, do you? You would ruin the one without improving the other. In the selection of your bank do you take the same care as you do in planting melons and cucumbers? Do you want a Bank of Personal Service — one that meets your needs, your requirements? Why not call and see us?

TODAY WE ANNOUNCE OUR READINESS FOR CHRISTMAS BUSINESS

And in this announcement we desire to tell you that we have prepared wisely and well.

Our stock is superb—our service complete—and we desire that you inspect carefully every article of interest.

With buyers coming in greatly increasing numbers, assortments and varieties must necessarily decrease.

Hundreds of articles come from markets too far to permit of re-ordering. Among these are the unique novelties in which early shoppers find the greatest joy in selection.

And so we advise Christmas shopping while the stock is complete. 31 days before Christmas for shopping.

With The Hunters

That game is scarce, particularly quail, was the one common complaint of hunters who returned from their first day's hunt. "Shorty" Wheeler, perhaps was a single exception. He hunted at Oak Hill at the invitation of a friend, who had two coveys on his farm, and of course it was dead easy to get the limit under the circumstances. Lou and Howard Gehres came home with a half dozen rabbits but no birds. W. O. Horn and Frank Servey came home from the Caldwell farm with but one bird and three rabbits apiece. Al. Brunner had only a fair day on the Herman Hanigen farm, where Joe Ebert, of Columbus, is putting in the quail season. Henry Cook got but two rabbits and one bird tramping around his old home place on Dogwood Ridge. Frank Amann and Joe Schafer did not get a single shot at quail, for there was none to be seen on the West Side. Ed. Glockner, Ray Ruthmeyer and Carl Burkhart got 14 fine ducks down the river.

Otto Lauffer and Adam Pfau have returned from the Eckhart farm and report only fair success. Charley Huels and John Sudenfeld brought home only a dozen quail from Peebles, but were fairly loaded down with rabbits.

Al Rudity, Joe Distel, Prosecutor Horace Spiall and Recorder Joe Switalski have returned from a successful hunt near Ironton, where they found game quite plentiful. They killed about 40 quail and could have bagged a whole load of rabbits had they cared to. They say they never saw rabbits so thick in all their lives.

James Distel and Marshal Distel chaperoned their uncle, Chas. Distel, of Cincinnati, on a hunting trip near Harrisonville Saturday, and although they trampled over 1000 acres of fine hunting territory, did not so much as scare up a single quail. They killed several rabbits, and this partly atoned for their ill luck in the bird line. Mr. Distel, of Cincinnati, actually ran a rabbit to death, tearing down an acre of underbrush and ruining a suit of clothes. He got the cotton-tail, however.

Alex. M. Glockner and Ray Ruthmeyer bagged a half dozen birds and quite a number of rabbits on the West Side, Saturday afternoon.

Will Miller has returned from the Philip Meldig farm in Jackson county, where he and Dick Thornton got 35 birds and 18 rabbits in two days' hunting. Dick remained there for a few days longer and was joined Monday by George Zeisler.

Theo. Pierron and Clark Hancock found quail scarce along the Little Scioto, but had a merry time peppering away at cotton tails. Pierron wrenched his back when a log on which he was standing revolved with him, but was able to go to Ironton Monday noon to look after his duties as deputy state oil inspector.

Richard Forrest, of Eleventh street, and Master Arthur Carey were among the successful hunters Saturday. They spent the day in the vicinity of Sargent's, and returned home with sixteen rabbits.

While hunting on the Ohio river Saturday, Ed Glockner and Carl Burkhart, of this city, and Ray Ruthemeyer, of Cincinnati, bagged 14 ducks. Six of the birds were fine large Mallards. The party ran into six flocks near the mouth of Turkey creek and enjoyed four hours of top-notch hunting.

P. H. Harsha left Monday morning for the eastern part of the county on a several days' hunt. He hopes to repudiate all reports about the scarcity of quail by bringing home the limited number of birds.

Wendell Staten and Ed McNamara are planning a day's hunt this week near Harrisonville.

When such a cracksman with the shotgun as John Flood returns home with only two birds as the fruits of a two days' hunt, quail must be few and far between. Mr. Flood spent the first two days in the field near Wakefield. He is convinced that the quail family must have suffered untold agonies during last winter.

George Freund, Father McGuirk and Dr. Goodwin left Monday morning for the northern part of the county for a hunt.

Herbert Smith, a Gallia street grocer, is camping out in the vicinity of Piketon. First reports from him show that he has been unusually successful. He expects to remain throughout the entire season.

Emory Burgess, barber, employed at Ray Shifron's Gallia street shop, laid aside the razor long enough Monday to get in a little shooting in the vicinity of South Webster.

TWO ATTRACTIVE HATS FROM PARIS.

Two very attractive hats are shown. One is a picture hat in black velvet. However fluctuating fashion may be, the ostrich feather never loses its place, as can be seen from this delightful shapeau from a famous French milliner, with its large rose colored feathers.

The long lines of the black and white hat are peculiarly graceful and effective. The rich white brocade and the handsome feather mount are subdued by the black velvet lining, which forms a pleasing background for the face.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Please suggest something simple and inexpensive for me to serve at a surprise party in honor of my sister. Pearle.

Brown bread, pimento sandwiches, Waldorf salad and chocolate.

Dear Miss Wise—Do you think it is proper for a girl to go motorcycle riding with a boy? A. M.

I do not approve of a girl hanging on behind a boy on a motorcycle. It is neither becoming nor dignified.

Dear Miss Wise—I want to give a shower for a bride-elect. Should she know all the invited guests. Amelia.

Yes. You should only invite friends of the bride-elect.

Dear Miss Wise—Kindly tell me what will remove the gloss from serge. A. B.

Sponge the serge with a saturated solution of borax and water. Afterward sponge with clear water.

Or boil a handful of fig leaves in a quart of water down to a pint. Strain and apply the clear liquid.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a traveling man of 30 years. Frequently at a station, while waiting for a train, I meet a young woman with whom I have fallen desperately in love. I do not know her, but she is the ideal of my dreams. I have made up my mind that she, and only she, will be my wife. I don't know of any way of making her acquaintance except by flirtation, and this I know is impossible, for she is not that kind of a girl; and, anyhow, I hate to think that I won my wife in such an ungentlemanly way. Now, can't you think of a way for me to become acquainted? I love her and dream of her, and would thank you for a whole lifetime if you would give me some idea of how to become acquainted. H. C.

Find a way to trace that girl either at one end of her route or the other and through the aid of some mutual friends be introduced. If everything else fails get a day off and follow her at a respectful distance until you find out where she lives. If her parents are alive, I'd call on them some evening and tell them frankly what I had done, and that I wished them to introduce their daughter to me. If she boarded, I'd do the same with the landlady. If I were checkmated in one move, I'd make another, and I'd keep on until I met her, according to a recognized social standard. The greatest fun in life is gained by having some single purpose in mind and setting out to accomplish it. Your ideals on meeting the girl are fine. Do not be tempted to haul down your standard.

Dear Miss Wise—In trying to torment the man I love, I went so far I insulted him. He demanded apologies, which I refused. This was six months ago, and I haven't seen him since. I know he loves me and that I will not be happy without him.

Write him a note telling him you are sorry. You owe it to him for, of your own confession, you insulted him.

If he loves you, it will not be necessary to write a second time to bring him to your side.

This is the time of year when colors change just as do hats and gowns. Court blue is one of the latest. It is a cross between electric and gendarme.

Taupe has shed its brown tinge and has acquired a tint like elephant gray.

One of the prettiest blues is blue vig, a deep and yet bright shade.

Shrimp is the favored pink.

A glorious red which looks extremely well with white is called rouge venetian.

Chalk white is en vogue.

Amaranth is a claret shade.

Caramel is another pretty edition of brown.

Verdigris is one of the smartest greens.

Mimosa is a yellow that verges on orange.

Petunia is the successor of the fuchsia medley, with the purple and red tints predominating.

Berkshire Potatoes

Heat one quart of milk into which two large sliced onions have been placed. Boil this for several minutes in a double boiler, then take out the onions. Cream one tablespoonful of butter and one tablespoonful of flour and add to the above. Cook until it thickens. Add one pint of cold boiled potatoes cut into slices and one tablespoonful of minced parsley. Season with salt and pepper, and soon as the mixture thickens and is heated through, turn into buttered crumbs and brown in the oven.

GRACEFUL GOWN.

Graceful simplicity characterizes the gown pictured. The pannier, developed in soft chiffon and banded about the knees with a soft satin sash, is the chief feature of this little gown.

The Columbus Dispatch of Sunday had the following account of the wedding of Miss Ruth Baird Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Albert T. Johnson, a former resident of this city, to Mrs. Edward W. Campion:

"Precisely at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Albert Tracy Johnson, 1324 East Broad street, the marriage of Miss Ruth Baird Johnson, a Smith college graduate, to Mr. Edward Winslow Campion was celebrated in the presence of half a hundred friends. The wedding was one of great beauty. Decorations were in keeping with the late autumn season, a profusion of snow-white chrysanthemums, with roses and Southern smilax, decking the parlor and the enclosed veranda. Rev. Dr. S. S. Palmer, pastor of the Broad Street Presbyterian church, officiated.

"White charmeuse formed the foundation of the bridal gown, and over this was draped white chiffon. A tulle veil fell in filmy folds to the train of the wedding gown. The bride carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

"Miss Jean Johnson, who was her sister's only attendant, was costumed in Nile green charmeuse and carried pink chrysanthemums.

"Mrs. Johnson, mother of the bride, wore lavender charmeuse, veiled with chiffon.

"Mr. Sylvester Preston, of Pittsburg, was Mr. Campion's best man.

"The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Campion, the bridegroom's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Richards Kellogg, of Troy, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Woodland, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Justice Wilson, of Toledo; Mrs. Christopher G. Parnall, of Jackson, Mich.; Miss Florence Lord of New York; Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bannon, Jr., Miss Emma Johnson and Mr. Sherrard Johnson, of Portsmouth; Mr. Sylvester C. Preston, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Theodore N. Johnson and Miss Lillian Johnson, of Evanston, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Griswold Wilson, of Cleveland.

"The bride and bridegroom started Saturday evening on their wedding trip, and upon their return to Columbus they will be at home at 1246 Eastwood avenue. Mr. Campion is associated with the Buckeye Steel Castings company. He is a graduate of the Cornell university.

OUTDOOR EXERCISE FOR WOMEN

BY MISS ELSIE JANIS

ELSIE JANIS AND HER PEKINESE DOG MOUSMEE AT NARRAGANSETT.

(Copyright, 1912, by the New York Evening Telegram (New York Herald Co.). All rights reserved.)

SWIMMING.

I HAVE been asked to give my ideas on the subject of exercise. While I am no female Jeffries or Hackenschmidt, I think I can talk a little on the subject, or at least I can tell how exercise has helped me.

First, let's take swimming, one of the most popular sports, but not sufficiently popular in the minds and hearts of the average girl of to-day. Girls, if you don't care for exercise; if your minds dwell on "parties," on dancing half the night, then all the more reason for your taking up athletics as a safeguard to your health and good looks.

Swimming is undoubtedly one of the most graceful things a man or woman can do, and it helps wonderfully with your breath control, which is a very important item. For if you go to a ball and are popular you dance a lot. After a good, fast turkey trot, when the fascinating young man with whom you have been tripping it remarks "That was wonderful!" if you look up into his face and between gasps for breath murmur a weak "Yes," he is likely to say to himself "Poor cheeild! I have tired her out." But if, having your breath under perfect control, you answer his remark with an enthusiastic "Yes!" and follow it with "How well your step suits mine!" he will be sure to say, "May I have some more dances later?" and, consequently, before you know it you will be the belle of the ball—maybe—and all because you had breath control as well as wit and tact.

Seriously, swimming will give girls good "lines" and develop long, undulating muscles. While some people argue that muscle is not becoming to a woman, a certain amount of it never hurt any girl's figure, and to my mind proper muscular development would help most of them a lot.

From personal experience I would advise beginners in swimming not to waste time, as I did, on the old breast stroke that they teach first to all unsuspecting children. When I first started I worried along as slowly as a Philadelphia snail, and that is some slow. Then all of a sudden I saw a girl friend dive in and swim the "overhand" stroke, which most long distance swimmers use, and I went after her and copied it. That was the turning point for me.

Since then I have learned every stroke I have seen in just that same way, copying the style of some expert swimmer. It is wonderful how simple it is to stay afloat with hardly any effort, once one gains confidence in the supporting ability of the water.

One most important item, which will probably rob the country of lots of good girl swimmers: Do not be afraid of getting your hair wet or getting your head under the water, because that is the one important thing. Your head must be down in the water to balance your body—not necessarily meaning that the head must be heavy.

As I was asked to write a little article on swimming, and not the history of my young life, I will stop here. But, really, I mean it when I say, "Swim, girls, swim!"

That sounds like a title of a song, doesn't it? I think I will write one on that theme if it may serve to inspire the young girls of America to go in for this healthful, invigorating and enjoyable exercise.

HUNTINGTON SURE IS SOME SPREAD OUT TOWN

There no longer should remain any doubt in the minds of local people relative to the immensity and magnitude of Huntington, who for so many years has yelped so boastfully about the area it covers. Here is positive proof:

Richard Tremper, assistant coach of the local High school team, missed the train that carried the local players to that city Saturday. He followed them on the afternoon C. & O. flyer. Upon his arrival in Huntington some one directed him to the playing field of the Marshall college. After twenty minutes of good solid hiking he arrived there, only to find it wrapped in a sheet of quietness and contentment. Not a single football player was in evidence.

A few inquiries were made by Mr. Tremper and he soon found himself walking briskly to another playing field, concrete evidence of Huntington's greatness, the city having two playing fields. Upon his arrival there he also found it depopulated. By this time he was pretty warm under the collar. After losing two hours' time and nearly all of his patience he finally reached the field on which the Portsmouth and Huntington football teams were battling for supremacy. There were but two minutes left to play, so you who have a little elasticity to your imaginative powers can picture the sheer disgust and disappointment that enveloped Mr. Tremper when he learned of the real state of affairs.

LABOR NEWS

St. Louis Garment Workers.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 18.—One of the largest tailoring companies of this city had a controversy recently which resulted in locking out a large number of members of the local garment workers' union, following which injunctions were issued, etc. Finally, the international union sent one of its executive board members here for the purpose of making an effort to secure a settlement. That settlement has been secured, and as a result all the shops in the city in the special order line have come to an agreement with the union, the result being that the garment workers have largely increased their membership through the difficulty which has just been settled.

New Union Shirt Factory.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 18.—President Thomas Rickert, of the United Garment Workers, in conjunction with a local committee, recently secured an agreement with the Victor Shirt company, of this city, which grants the use of the union label of that organization to the company. The employes in the factory recently formed a local union with a substantial membership, and with the agreement just noted there will be material addition to the product of union label goods in this city.

Organize Suspender Workers.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—The employes of a local suspender factory have organized a local union and been granted a charter by the American Federation of Labor. A scale of prices and working conditions have been agreed to between the firm and the union, the union shop being established in the factory. This concern is the only one engaged in this line of business in this territory, consequently the union is 100 per cent strong.

Beating Them To It.

Baltimore, Nov. 18.—It was recently announced by a local garment factory that it had reduced the hours of labor to nine, stating that "it was the first clothing factory in Baltimore to establish the nine-hour day for all employes." Sometime ago the United Garment Workers inaugurated a campaign in this city for the purpose of securing a larger membership, with a view to seeking a raise in wages and a shortening of hours. While the campaign was proceeding the factory here mentioned foresaw that a reduction of hours was inevitable, and has only discounted the future, with the evident intention of thwarting the purpose of the garment workers in securing the employes of the factory as members of the United Garment Workers' union. The campaign of organization will be continued.

Trolley Scale Award.

Holyoke, Mass., Nov. 18.—The trolley men employed by the Springfield, Mass., Street Railway company made an effort to secure an increase in wages and a betterment of working conditions, and finally, in order to avert a contest, the matter was submitted to a board of arbitration. This board has just made its award and the scale agreed to by the arbitrators grants the employes a substantial increase. The new rate ranges from $2.30 a day for the first six months to $2.85 a day during and after the fourth year. This wage scale affects the systems a both Springfield and Worcester. The range of wages for the first six months will be 23 cents an hour, second six months 24½ cents, second year 26 cents, third year 27 cents and fourth year 28½ cents. The trolley men have accepted the increase granted by the arbitration board in an enthusiastic manner and assert that the scale awarded is satisfactory. The scale dates from January 1, 1912, and the back pay will given to the men in a lump sum.

Vote On Pension Plan.

Boston, Nov. 18.—The last legislature enacted a bill relative to pensioning laborers in the employ of cities and towns in the state. It was provided that the matter of pensioning laborers employed by cities and towns, Boston excepted, should be submitted to the people in each city and town for approval or rejection at the next state election. In consequence thereof at the recent election the cities and towns of this state voted on this question. The law, where acquiesced in, will, where laborers have reached the age of 60 years, enable them to be retired upon a pension equal to one-half of the average annual compensation paid during the two years next prior to retirement. Compulsory retirement is fixed at 65 years, the pension to be computed in the manner mentioned.

Awaiting Wage Adjustment.

Washington, Nov. 18.—A commission composed of officers of the navy yards and navy department have had under consideration the wage question affecting the employes of the naval arm of the government. The employes were represented by officials of their various unions and a presentation of the reasons why an increase should be granted were placed before the wage board. Up to this time no decision has been rendered, although the presentations were made during the summer. Considerable unrest is now being manifested among these employes by the delay in the adjustment of the wage scale. It is understood that the report of the commission is in the hands of the secretary of the navy, but, as stated, no conclusion has as yet been made.

Sermon On Courtship Is Widely Discussed

Rev. C. S. Robertson began a series of sermons on "Family" at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday evening. His first sermon was on "Courtship," and it not only made the young people of his church think, but among many of the older members it was the subject of conversation today.

Rev. Robertson did not mince his words. He said what he believed and by doing so he hopes to make the divorce evil a thing of the past. In part he said:

"Is this a silly, sentimental theme? Is it a flippant sensationalism? Ah no! It is prudish sentimentalism only that forbids the discussion of this subject in public. May this lack of discussion, instructive and sober thought about this subject not account for the fact that with so many, courtship has become a comedy, marriage a farce and domestic life a tragedy? Why relegate this subject to the realm of fun and joke and frivolity of dudes and flirts.

"The notion of modern society on the question of marital life must be reconstructed, taken out of the realm of fiction and foolery and reset on the rocks of reality and common sense.

"The divorce records are now only a tithe of what would be if great social disgrace were not allied with divorcement. In the face of such records of low ideals and dreadful blunders is it not time that we had more sensible talk and less silly gossip about courtship

"What is marriage? It is the first institution that God, our creator, established for the happiness of man and the perpetuity of our race. Marriage is the temple of God for the worshipful love of two kindred souls, and courtship is the vestibule to that temple.

"Take courtship out of the realm of nonsense and inject vows and truths in it. Make it what it ought to be, then marriage can be what it should.

"First, let us enter a protest against coquetry. What is coquetry? A deliberate effort to gain the affection of another for the mere gratification of vanity. It is the meanest kind of theft, not of money but heart. It is social piracy, alluring the victim of love on to the rocks, leaving them to be battered to pieces by the tempests of disappointment and despair. The coxcomb who amuses himself at the expense of any woman ought to be branded a thief and as a possible murderer.

"What of the woman coquette? Arch deceiver! She dispenses her smiles and displays her charms as the fowler spreads his net for birds. She prostitutes love with the blandishments of silly speeches and destroys in her victim one of the vital elements of manhood, namely, faith in womanhood. To do this is not only cruelty, but criminality. A coquette will make a false wife or a treacherous husband.

"Young women have a right to ask of young men as much purity and principle as young men demand of them.

"When young women declare against the fashionable and popular iniquities of young men, much of the foolery in courtship will depart.

"I protest against a double standard of morality, one for men and another for women. If men can drink beer and whiskey and be labeled 'all right' by society, then women should have the same privilege. But let a woman indulge in these social vices and she would be dropped quickly by all better classes of society. When men shall be treated this way we shall have a higher order of manhood.

"Again I plead for the single standard of morals for men and women.

"I protest against clandestine marriages and elopement escapades, largely the fruit of bad literature of the day. There is enough romance in the hard facts of every life without reproducing it from the victims' lives of imaginary heroes and heroines.

"Young man, young woman, if your parents and best friends object to your marriage; in other words, if the best loves of your life forbid it, be assured that there is peril in it which you do not see.

"Young man, young woman, beware of secret meetings, stolen friendships and truant courtships. Beware of the young man who proposes a secret courtship and elopement.

"Don't think every spasm of your sensibilities and every flattering attention from the opposite sex means love.

"Don't fall in love until you can't help it, and then use your best thought and the best counsel you can get to let yourself down wisely.

"Once more I want to warn you against thoughtless and hasty engagements. Next to the marriage vow the betrothal vow is the most sacred. When you make a promise of marriage keep it. Woman ought to be more careful and cautious about making promises of marriage.

"The man who will lie to a woman about love, will lie about anything. A woman who decieves a man who loves her ought to be known in society as a heartless flirt.

"Follow the simple rules of common sense and honor in your courtship and the families that are established in our lands through courtship will be a blessing to society, to civilization and to all the oncoming generations."

Up To Theatre Goers Say Managers of Grand

"It's up to the theatre-goers," said Managers Tynes and Taylor this afternoon in discussing the coming of Wm. H. Crane to the Grand Tuesday evening. "We have heard from a large number of people during the past year the question, 'Why don't you get some of the big city shows at the Grand, some of those that make Cincinnati, and which go to Charleston and Huntington?' In response we have booked Wm. H. Crane and some other big city shows this year, representing to our booking agents that Portsmouth was now big enough to patronize such productions. The crowd at the Crane engagement tomorrow evening will be taken as a criterion as to whether Portsmouth really wants such shows.

"Mr. Crane and his splendid company pleased big crowds in Cincinnati. His coming has been extensively advertised; so there is no reason why those who have been talking about big city shows cannot go if they wish.

"We succeeded in actually getting cheaper prices here than Mr. Crane played to in Cincinnati. There are still a number of good seats for $1, 75c and 50c. The gallery is only 25c. If Mr. Crane cannot get a big house here at these prices we certainly will not feel like inducing other such shows to put Portsmouth in their itinerary."

Managers Tynes and Taylor expressed themselves as very much gratified with the seat sale this morning, and said, if indications were to be relied upon, the biggest and most fashionable crowd in years, with the probable exception of "The Chocolate Soldier," would greet Mr. Crane.

OWLS WILL INITIATE

The local nest, No. 1316. Order of Owls, will meet in regular session tonight at their hall in the Bavarin building. Several matters of importance are scheduled to come up at this meeting and a full attendance is desired. There are also several candidates to be initiated into the order.

After the regular session the order will indulge in a social session. Let every Owl be at the nest at 7:30, sharp, tonight and make the meeting a big one.

MISSED SIGNALS OF CALF; SMASH-UP

As the result of a misinterpretation of signals, John Newman, in taking a spin to Buena Vista Sunday afternoon collided with a calf, breaking the animal's leg and compelling him to dig down into his jeans to make amends for the injury. Neither Newman nor the machine was damaged in the mixup with the calf.

Tide Davenport, Richard Applegate, and several other motorcycle enthusiasts made the trip to Buena Vista, but ran into nothing worse than good weather.

Doggie Had Best Of Mix-Up With Bike

When W. J. Hockaday, prescription clerk at Hagar's pharmacy, his bicycle and a little dog mixed it up on Waller street Monday morning Hockaday and the wheel came out the little end of the horn. The rear wheel of the bike was badly battered and the rider was skinned about the shins where they caressed the pavement. The dog emerged from the scrimmage without a scratch and ran away yelping gleefully.

Thought Ray's Fist Was A Street Car

A street fight, which held up two street cars, was the scene on Chillicothe street, between Seventh and Eighth streets, Sunday night. One of the principals in the fight was Frank Ray, well-known ball player. The identity of the other scrapper could not be learned. The two men met in the middle of the street and went at it hammer and tongs. Just as the street cars came within a few feet of them, Ray knocked his opponent down and the motormen were compelled to put on the air, as the fellow was sprawling all over the tracks and would have been run over. He thought at that one of the cars hit him, so well directed was Ray's blow. It took all the fight out of him and as soon as he recovered his senses he sneaked off down the street. Ray's hand was badly injured a it came in contact with his assailant's jaw-bone.

"RED" GOT A BLACK EYE

"Red" Stewart, a member of the Smoke House football team, was painfully injured in the Chillicothe game, Sunday. One of the Chillicothe players struck him in the eye, and soon had the optic in mourning. It is badly swollen, but "Red" was able to resume his duties at the Steel plant just the same.

TWO ATTRACTIVE HATS FROM PARIS.

Two very attractive hats are shown. One is a picture hat in black velvet. However fluctuating fashion may be, the ostrich feather never loses its place, as can be seen from this delightful chapeau from a famous French milliner, with its large rose colored feathers.

The long lines of the black and white hat are peculiarly graceful and effective. The rich white brocade and the handsome feather mount are subdued by the black velvet lining, which forms a pleasing background for the face.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Please suggest something simple and inexpensive for me to serve at a surprise party in honor of my sister. Pearle.

Brown bread, pimento sandwiches, Waldorf salad and chocolate.

Dear Miss Wise—Do you think it is proper for a girl to go motorcycle riding with a boy? A. M.

I do not approve of a girl hanging on behind a boy on a motorcycle. It is neither becoming nor dignified.

Dear Miss Wise—I want to give a shower for a bride-elect. Should she know all the invited guests. Amelia.

Yes. You should only invite friends of the bride-elect.

Dear Miss Wise—Kindly tell me what will remove the gloss from serge. A. B.

Sponge the serge with a saturated solution of borax and water. Afterward sponge with clear water. Or boil a handful of fig leaves in a quart of water down to a pint. Strain and apply the clear liquid.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a traveling man of 30 years. Frequently at a station, while waiting for a train, I meet a young woman with whom I have fallen desperately in love. I do not know her, but she is the ideal of my dreams. I have made up my mind that she, and only she, will be my wife. I don't know of any way of making her acquaintance except by flirtation, and this I know is impossible, for she is not that kind of a girl; and, anyhow, I hate to think that I won my wife in such an ungentlemanly way. Now, don't you think of a way for me to become acquainted? I love her and dream of her, and would thank you for a whole lifetime if you would give me some idea of how to become acquainted. H. G.

Find a way to trace that girl, either at one end of her route or the other and through the aid of some mutual friends be introduced. If everything else fails get a day off and follow her at a respectful distance until you find out where she lives. If her parents are alive, I'd call on them some evening and tell them frankly what I had done, and that I wished them to introduce their daughter to me. If she boarded, I'd do the same with the landlady. If I were checkmated in one move, I'd make another, and I'd keep on until I met her, according to a recognized social standard. The greatest fun in life is gained by having some single purpose in mind and setting out to accomplish it. Your ideals on meeting the girl are fine. Do not be tempted to haul down your standard.

Dear Miss Wise—In trying to torment the man I love, I went so far I insulted him. He demanded apologies, which I refused. This was six months ago, and I haven't seen him since. I know he loves me and that I will not be happy without him. E. A.

Write him a note telling him you are sorry. You owe it to him for, of your own confession, you insulted him.

If he loves you, it will not be necessary to write a second time to bring him to your side.

This is the time of year when colors change just as do hats and gowns. Court blue is one of the latest. It is a cross between electric and gendarme.

Taupe has shed its brown tinge and has acquired a tint like elephant gray.

One of the prettiest blues is blue vig, a deep and yet bright shade.

Shrimp is the favored pink.

A glorius red which looks extremely well with white is called rouge venetian.

Chalk white is en vogue.

Amaranth is a claret shade.

Caramel is another pretty edition of brown.

Verdigris is one of the smartest greens.

Mimosa is a yellow that verges on orange.

Petunia is the successor of the fuchsia medley, with the purple and red tints predominating.

Berkshire Potatoes

Heat one quart of milk into which two large sliced onions have been placed. Boil this for several minutes in a double boiler, then take out the onions. Cream one tablespoonful of butter and one tablespoonful of flour and add to the above. Cook until it thickens. Add one pint of cold boiled potatoes cut into slices and one tablespoonful of minced parsley. Season with salt and pepper, and soon as the mixture thickens and is heated through, turn into buttered crumbs and brown in the oven.

The Columbus Dispatch of Sunday had the following account of the wedding of Miss Ruth Baird Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Albert T. Johnson, a former resident of this city, to Mrs. Edward W. Campion:

"Precisely at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Albert Tracy Johnson, 1324 East Broad street, the marriage of Miss Ruth Baird Johnson, a Smith college graduate, to Mr. Edward Winslow Campion was celebrated in the presence of half a hundred friends. The wedding was one of great beauty. Decorations were in keeping with the late autumn season, a profusion of snow-white chrysanthemums, with roses and Southern smilax, decking the parlor and the enclosed veranda. Rev. Dr. S. S. Palmer, pastor of the Broad Street Presbyterian church, officiated.

"White charmeuse formed the foundation of the bridal gown, and over this was draped white chiffon. A tulle veil fell in filmy folds to the train of the wedding gown. The bride carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

"Miss Jean Johnson, who was her sister's only attendant, was costumed in Nile green charmeuse and carried pink chrysanthemums.

"Mrs. Johnson, mother of the bride, wore lavender charmeuse, veiled with chiffon.

"Mr. Sylvester Preston, of Pittsburg, was Mr. Campion's best man.

"The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Campion, the bridegroom's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Richards Kellogg, of Troy, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Woodland, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Justice Wilson, of Toledo; Mrs. Christopher G. Parnall, of Jackson, Mich.; Miss Florence Lord of New York; Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bannon, Jr., Miss Emma Johnson and Mr. Sherrard Johnson, of Portsmouth; Mr. Sylvester C. Preston, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Theodore N. Johnson and Miss Lillian Johnson, of Evanston, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Griswold Wilson, of Cleveland.

"The bride and bridegroom started Saturday evening on their wedding trip, and upon their return to Columbus they will be at home at 1240 Eastwood avenue. Mr. Campion is associated with the Buckeye Steel Castings company. He is a graduate of the Cornell university.

OUTDOOR EXERCISE FOR WOMEN

BY MISS ELSIE JANIS

ELSIE JANIS AND HER PEKINESE DOG MOUSMEE AT NARRAGANSETT.

[Copyright, 1912, by the New York Evening Telegram (New York Herald Co.). All rights reserved.]

SWIMMING.

I HAVE been asked to give my ideas on the subject of exercise. While I am no female Jeffries or Hackenschmidt, I think I can talk a little on the subject, or at least I can tell how exercise has helped me.

First, let's take swimming, one of the most popular sports, but not sufficiently popular in the minds and hearts of the average girl of to-day. Girls, if you don't care for exercise; if your minds dwell on "parties" on dancing half the night, then all the more reason for your taking up athletics as a safeguard to your health and good looks.

Swimming is undoubtedly one of the most graceful things a man or woman can do, and it helps wonderfully with your breath control, which is a very important item for if you go to a ball and are popular you dance a lot. After a good, fast turkey trot, when the fascinating young man with whom you have been tripping remarks "That was wonderful!" if you look up into his face and between gasps for breath murmur a weak "Yes," he is likely to say to himself "Poor cheelld! I have tired her out." But if, having your breath under perfect control, you answer his remark with an enthusiastic "Yes!" and follow it with "How well your step suits mine!" he will be sure to say, "Say! I have some more dances later?" and, confidently, before you know it you will be the belle of the ball—maybe—and all because you had breath control as well as wit and tact.

Seriously, swimming will give girls good "lines" and develop long, undulating muscles. While some people argue that muscle is not becoming to a woman, a certain amount of it never hurt any girl's figure, and to my mind proper muscular development would help most of them a lot.

From personal experience I would advise beginners at swimming not to waste time, as I did, on the old breast stroke that they teach first to all unsuspecting children. When I first started I worried along as slowly as a Philadelphia snail, and that is some slow. Then all of a sudden I saw a girl friend dive in and swim the "overhand" stroke, which most long distance swimmers use, and I went after her and copied it. That was the turning point for me.

Since then I have learned every stroke I have seen in just that same way, copying the style of some expert swimmer. It is wonderful how simple it is to stay afloat with hardly any effort, once one gains confidence in the supporting ability of the water.

One most important item, which will probably rob the country of lots of good girl swimmers:—Do not be afraid of getting your hair wet or getting your head under the water, because that is the one important thing. Your head must be down in the water to balance your body—not necessarily meaning that the head must be heavy.

As I was asked to write a little article on swimming, and not the history of my young life, I will stop here. But, really, I mean it when I say, "Swim, girls, swim!"

That sounds like a title of a song, doesn't it? I think I will write one on that theme if it may serve to inspire the young girls of America to go in for this healthful, invigorating and enjoyable exercise.

HUNTINGTON SURE IS SOME SPREAD OUT TOWN

There no longer should remain any doubt in the minds of local people relative to the immensity and magnitude of Huntington, who for so many years has reiped so boastfully about the area it covers. Here is positive proof:

Richard Tremper, assistant coach of the local High school team, missed the train that carried the local players to that city Saturday. He followed them on the afternoon C. & O. flyer. Upon his arrival in Huntington some one directed him to the playing field of the Marshall college. After twenty minutes of good solid hiking he arrived there, only to find it wrapped in a sheet of quietness and contentment. Not a single football player was in evidence.

A few inquiries were made by Mr. Tremper and he soon found himself walking briskly to another playing field, concrete evidence of Huntington's greatness, the city having two playing fields. Upon his arrival there he also found it depopulated. By this time he was pretty warm under the collar. After losing two hours' time and nearly all of his patience he finally reached the field on which the Portsmouth and Huntington football teams were battling for supremacy. There were but two minutes left to play, so you who have a little elasticity to your imaginative powers can picture the sheer disgust and disappointment that enveloped Mr. Tremper when he learned of the real state of affairs.

This board has just made its award and the scale agreed to by the arbitrators grants the employes a substantial increase. The new rate ranges from $2.30 a day for the first six months to $2.85 a day during and after the fourth year. This wage scale affects the systems in both Springfield and Worcester. The range of wages for the first six months will be 23 cents an hour, second six months 24½ cents, second year 26 cents, third year 27 cents and fourth year 28½ cents. The trolley men have accepted the increase granted by the arbitration board in an enthusiastic manner and assert that the scale awarded is satisfactory. The scale dates from January 1, 1912, and the back pay will given to the men in a lump sum.

LABOR NEWS

St. Louis Garment Workers.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 18.—One of the largest tailoring companies of this city had a controversy recently which resulted in locking out a large number of members of the local garment workers' union, following which injunctions were issued, etc. Finally, the international union sent one of its executive board members here for the purpose of making an effort to secure a settlement. That settlement has been secured, and as a result all the shops in the city in the special order line have come to an agreement with the union, the result being that the garment workers have largely increased their membership through the difficulty which has just been settled.

New Union Shirt Factory.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 18.—President Thomas Rickert, of the United Garment Workers, in conjunction with a local committee, recently secured an agreement with the Victor Shirt company, of this city, which grants the use of the union label of that organization to the company. The employes in the factory recently formed a local union with a substantial membership, and with the agreement just noted there will be material addition to the product of union label goods in this city.

Organize Suspender Workers.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—The employes of a local suspender factory have organized a local union and been granted a charter by the American Federation of Labor. A scale of prices and working conditions have been agreed to between the firm and the union, the union shop being established in the factory. This concern is the only one engaged in this line of business in this territory, consequently the union is 100 per cent strong.

Beating Them To It.

Baltimore, Nov. 18.—It was recently announced by a local garment factory that it had reduced the hours of labor to nine, stating that "it was the first clothing factory in Baltimore to establish the nine-hour day for all employes." Sometime ago the United Garment Workers inaugurated a campaign in this city for the purpose of securing a larger membership, with a view to seeking a raise in wages and a shortening of hours. While the campaign was proceeding the factory here mentioned foresaw that a reduction of hours was inevitable, and has only discounted the future, with the evident intention of thwarting the purpose of the garment workers in securing the employes of the factory as members of the United Garment Workers' union. The campaign of organization will be continued.

Trolley Scale Award.

Holyoke, Mass., Nov. 18.—The trolley men employed by the Springfield, Mass., Street Railway company made an effort to secure an increase in wages and a betterment of working conditions, and finally, in order to avert a contest, the matter was submitted to a board of arbitration.

Awaiting Wage Adjustment.

Washington, Nov. 18.—A commission composed of officers of the navy yards and navy department have had under consideration the wage question affecting the employes of the naval arm of the government. The employes were represented by officials of their various unions and a presentation of the reasons why an increase should be granted were placed before the wage board. Up to this time no decision has been rendered, although the presentations were made during the summer. Considerable unrest is now being manifested among these employes by the delay in the adjustment of the wage scale. It is understood that the report of the commission is in the hands of the secretary of the navy; but, as stated, no conclusion has as yet been made.

Vote On Pension Plan.

Boston, Nov. 18.—The last legislature enacted a bill relative to pensioning laborers in the employ of cities and towns in the state. It was provided that the matter of pensioning laborers employed by cities and towns, Boston excepted, should be submitted to the people in each city and town for approval or rejection at the next state election. In consequence thereof at the recent election the cities and towns of this state voted on this question. The law, where acquiesced in, will, where laborers have reached the age of 60 years, enable them to be retired upon a pension equal to one-half of the average annual compensation paid during the two years next prior to retirement. Compulsory retirement is fixed at 65 years, the pension to be computed in the manner mentioned.

Sermon On Courtship Is Widely Discussed

Rev. C. S. Robertson began a series of sermons on "Family" at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday evening. His first sermon was on "Courtship," and it not only made the young people of his church think, but among many of the older members it was the subject of conversation today.

Rev. Robertson did not mince his words. He said what he believed and he doing so he hopes to make the divorce evil a thing of the past. In part he said:

"Is this a silly, sentimental theme? Is it a flippant sensationalism? Ah no! It is prudish sentimentalism only that forbids the discussion of this subject in public. May this lack of discussion, instructive and sober thought about this subject not account for the fact that with so many, courtship has become a comedy, marriage a farce and domestic life a tragedy! Why relegate this subject to the realm of fun and joke and frivolity of dudes and flirts.

"The notion of modern society on the question of marital life must be reconstructed, taken out of the realm of fiction and foolery and reset on the rocks of reality and common sense.

"The divorce records are now only a tithe of what would be if great social disgrace were not allied with divorcement. In the face of such records of low ideals and dreadful blunders is it not time that we had more sensible talk and less silly gossip about courtship.

"What is marriage? It is the first institution that God, our creator, established for the happiness of man and the perpetuity of our race. Marriage is the temple of God for the worshipful love of two kindred souls, and courtship is the vestibule to that temple.

"Take courtship out of the realm of nonsense and inject vows and truths in it. Make it what it ought to be, then marriage can be what it should.

"First, let us enter a protest against coquetry. What is coquetry? A deliberate effort to gain the affection of another for the mere gratification of vanity. It is the meanest kind of theft; not of money but heart. It is social piracy, alluring the victim of love on to the rocks, leaving them to be buffered to pieces by the tempests of disappointment and despair. The coxcomb who amuses himself at the expense of any woman ought to be branded a thief and as a possible murderer.

"What of the woman coquette? Arch deceiver! She dispenses her smiles and displays her charms as the fowler spreads his net for birds. She prostitutes love with the blandishments of silly speech-es and destroys in her victim one of the vital elements of manhood, namely, faith in womanhood. To do this is not only cruelty, but criminality. A coquette will make a false wife or a treacherous husband.

"Young women have a right to ask of young men as much purity and principle as young men demand of them.

"When young women declare against the fashionable and popular iniquities of young men, much of the foolery in courtship will depart.

"I protest against a double standard, of morality, one for men and another for women. If men can drink beer and whiskey and be labeled 'all right' by society, then women should have the same privilege. But let a woman indulge in these social vices and she would be dropped quickly by all better classes of society. When men shall be treated this way we shall have a higher order of manhood.

"Again I plead for the single standard of morals for men and women.

"I protest against clandestine marriages and elopement escapades, largely the fruit of bad literature of the day. There is enough romance in the hard facts of every life without reproducing it from the victims' lives of imaginary heroes and heroines.

"Young man, young woman, if your parents and best friends object to your marriage; in other words, if the best loves of your life forbid it, be assured that there is peril in it which you do not see.

"Young man, young woman, beware of secret meetings, stolen friendships and truant courtships. Beware of the young man who proposes a secret courtship and elopement.

"Don't think every spasm of your sensibilities and every flattering attention from the opposite sex means love.

"Don't fall in love until you can't help it, and then use your best thought and the best counsel you can get to let yourself down wisely.

"Once more I want to warn you against thoughtless and hasty engagements. Next to the marriage vow the betrothal vow is the most sacred. When you make a promise of marriage keep it. Woman ought to be more careful and cautious about making promises of marriage.

"The man who will lie to a woman about love, will lie about anything. A woman who believes a man who loves her ought to be known in society as a heartless flirt.

"Follow the simple rules of common sense and honor in your courtship and the families that are established in our lands through courtship will be a blessing to society, to civilization and to all the oncoming generations."

Up To Theatre Goers Say Managers of Grand

"It's up to the theatre-goers," said Managers Tynes and Taylor this afternoon in discussing the coming of Wm. H. Crane to the Grand Tuesday evening. "We have heard from a large number of people during the past year the question, 'Why don't you get some of the big city shows at the Grand, some of those that make Cincinnati, and which go to Charleston and Huntington?' In response we have booked Wm. H. Crane and some other big city shows this year, representing to our booking agents that Portsmouth was now big enough to patronize such productions. The crowd at the Crane engagement tomorrow evening will be taken as a criterion as to whether Portsmouth really wants such shows.

"Mr. Crane and his splendid company pleased big crowds in Cincinnati. His coming has been extensively advertised; so there is no reason why those who have been talking about big city shows cannot go if they wish.

"We succeeded in actually getting cheaper prices here than Mr. Crane played to in Cincinnati. There are still a number of good seats for $1. 75c and 50c. The gallery is only 25c. If Mr. Crane cannot get a big house here at those prices we certainly will not feel like inducing other such shows to put Portsmouth in their itinerary."

Managers Tynes and Taylor expressed themselves as very much gratified with the seat sale this morning, and said, if indications were to be relied upon, the biggest and most fashionable crowd in years, with the probable exception of "The Chocolate Soldier," would greet Mr. Crane.

OWLS WILL INITIATE

The local nest, No. 1316, Order of Owls, will meet in regular session tonight at their hall in the Dorarin building. Several matters of importance are scheduled to come up at this meeting and a full attendance is desired. There are also several candidates to be initiated into the order.

After the regular session the order will indulge in a social session. Let every Owl be at the nest at 7:30, sharp, tonight and make the meeting a big one.

MISSED SIGNALS OF CALF; SMASH-UP

As the result of a misinterpretation of signals, John Newman, in taking a spin to Buena Vista Sunday afternoon collided with a calf, breaking the animal's leg and compelling him to dig down into his jeans to make amends for the injury. Neither Newman nor the machine was damaged in the mixup with the calf.

Tide Davenport, Richard Applegate, and several other motorcycle enthusiasts made the trip to Buena Vista, but ran into nothing worse than good weather.

Doggie Had Best Of Mix-Up With Bike

When W. J. Hockaday, prescription clerk at Hagar's pharmacy, his bicycle and a little dog mixed it up on Waller street Monday morning Hockaday and the wheel came out the little end of the horn. The rear wheel of the bike was badly battered and the rider was skinned about the shins where they caressed the pavement. The dog emerged from the scrimmage without a scratch and ran away yelping gleefully.

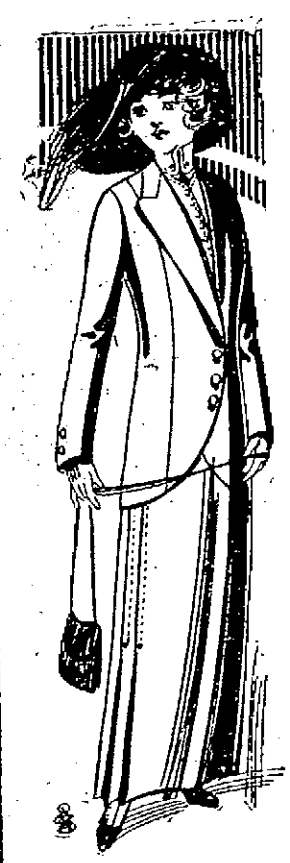

Thought Ray's Fist Was A Street Car

A street fight, which held up two street cars, was the scene on Chillicothe street, between Seventh and Eighth streets, Sunday night. One of the principals in the fight was Frank Ray, well-known ball player. The identity of the other scrapper could not be learned. The two men met in the middle of the street and went at it hammer and tongs. Just as the street cars came within a few feet of them, Ray knocked his opponent down and the motormen were compelled to put on the air, as the fellow was sprawling all over the tracks and would have been run over. He thought at that one of the cars hit him, so well directed was Ray's blow. It took all the fight out of him and as soon as he recovered his senses he sneaked off down the street. Ray's hand was badly injured a it came in contact with his assailant's jaw-bone.

"RED" GOT A BLACK EYE

"Red" Stewart, a member of the Smoke House football team, was painfully injured in the Chillicothe game, Sunday. One of the Chillicothe players struck him in the eye, and soon had the optic in mourning. It is badly swollen, but "Red" was able to resume his duties at the Steel plant just the same.

Missionaries Held Services At Siloam

Forty members of the First Christian church Sunday school put in several good licks for the church at Siloam, Ky., Sunday afternoon. Their trip was in the nature of a missionary visit, and no doubt much good was accomplished.

Charles M. Howland, superintendent of the local school, delivered an address on "The Bible School." Rev. A. C. Hill, of Columbus, who is visiting in Portsmouth, spoke on "Church Work," while Rev. J. L. Finnel, assistant pastor of the Central Christian church at Lexington, Ky., spoke on "Endeavor Work."

A male chorus, consisting of 18 voices, accompanied the "missionaries," and rendered several splendid selections. The crowd was large and enthusiastic and those who participated in the exercises felt they had accomplished a good day's work. Rev. Smith, pastor of the Siloam church, tendered the thanks of the congregation to the "missionaries," who were asked to come again and bring a still larger crowd.

Will Attend Meeting

A number of local manufacturers expect to attend a meeting of the Ohio Manufacturers' Association meeting to be held in Columbus on Tuesday.

MISS PEEBLES HAD A VERY BAD FALL

Tripping on her skirt as she was descending a flight of stairs at the First Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, Miss Mary Peebles had a bad fall, but was fortunate to escape serious injuries. She pitched headlong down the stairs and might have been badly hurt, had not her fall been broken by two women just in front of her. Miss Peebles was severely shaken up.

Many Walkers Out Sunday

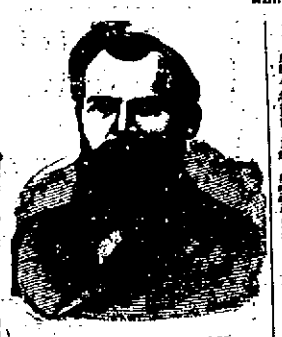

Taking advantage of the fine weather sight-seers were out again full force Sunday. Hundreds visited the reservoir site on Basham hill, the various hill-top additions and other points of interest. A good many tramped through the rural districts to commune with nature.

Murt D. Mathiott and family, of Second street, spent Sunday with relatives and friends at Wheelersburg.

DR. ALBERT F. SNELL

President of Snell's Private Sanitarium of Cincinnati, Ohio, will be in PORTSMOUTH, OHIO, At the WASHINGTON HOTEL THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, NOV. 21, 22 AND 23—THREE DAYS ONLY.

I KNOW HOW TO CURE NERVE-WRECKED, WORNOUT WOMEN AND MEN.

GIVE YOU TO MEDICAL AUTHORITIES THAT THIS IS A FACT AND I CAN CURE THIS DISEASE IN FIVE DAYS, AND I OFFER THE SICK AND AFFLICTED A LONG AND VALUABLE EXPERIENCE AS A SPECIALIST IN CURING THESE DISEASES, THOROUGHLY RELIABLE, PERMANENTLY LOCATED.

I invite you to come to my office. I will explain to you my treatment for Varicocele, Stricture, Hydrocele, Hernia, Nervous Debility, Blood Poison, Piles, Fistula, Bladder, Kidney and Prostatic Troubles, and give you a physical examination; if necessary, a microscopical and chemical analysis of secretions to determine pathological and bacteriological conditions. Every person should take advantage of this opportunity to learn their true condition. A permanent cure is what you want.

Hydrocele, Varicocele, Hernia, Stricture, Piles and Fistula

VARICOCELE—HYDROCELE.
Impaired circulation. Daily demonstrate Varicocele and Hydrocele can be cured, in selected cases by, one treatment, and in large majorities in five days, pain ceases, swelling subsides, a healthy circulation is rapidly re-established, instead of the depressing conditions.

STRICTURE.
I cure Stricture without bucking medicines and by my electro-medico-surgical treatment the stricture soon disappears; is painless and in no-wise interferes with your business duties.

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND PROSTATIC DISEASES.
I cure all irritation, frequent desire, stoppage, pain in back, brick-dust sediment, scanty flow and catarrhal condition.

SPECIFIC OR NON-SPECIFIC DISORDERS.
In acute troubles—all inflammation and irritation stopped. This bad disease cured in 7 days. Chronics cured in 21 days.

MY TREATMENT FOR NERVOUS DISEASES.
You have probably been treated for this so-called trouble and helped temporarily, or maybe not at all. I believe that this so-called disease is merely a symptom of some deep seated and obscure complication, which my direct treatment removes the cause, thereby making permanent cures.

RHEUMATISM
In all its forms, acute and chronic, enlarged and stiffened joints, muscular rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, BY MY SYSTEM OF TREATMENT shows signs of improvement from the start, and in a short time are PERMANENTLY cured.

FREE CONSULTATION.
You Are Under No Obligations to Take Treatment, Unless Our Charges, Terms and Arrangements Are Satisfactory, or You May Arrange to pay WHEN CURED

HERNIA (RUPTURE).
Dismissed of existing hernia has cost many lives. The smallest hernia are the most dangerous to life, because of the increased liability of strangulation. I cure rupture in some cases with perfect safety in five days, and cured to stay cured.

PILES AND FISTULA.
The sequelae of these afflictions are distressful nervous reflexes and painful conditions. My treatment and success are the result of years of experience. I cure in many uncomplicated cases in five days, worse cases in two weeks.

CHRONIC DISEASE OF WOMEN.
I successfully treat all nervous and chronic diseases of Women and such diseases peculiar to their sex, such as Falling and Womb Displacement, Nervous Decline, Dizziness, Pain in the Back, All women who wish to avoid instrumental examination and unnecessary operation should consult me.

CATARRHAL CONDITIONS CURED.
Catarrh of the Nose, Throat and Lungs successfully treated by my new inhalation method. It removes all irritation, pain in forehead, dropping of hawking and spitting, and prevents lung complications, chronic, bronchial and pulmonary diseases.

ULCERS.
I cure not of how long standing nor of what nature, as MY SYSTEM OF LOCAL, MOST SAFE AND RADICAL TREATMENT cures them to stay cured.
MOST TIME-SAVING, MOST NATURAL AND PERMANENT CURE. I GIVE MY WORD AND WILL

BLOOD POISON
It is well that all men know the consequences and after-effects of this terrible disease, and especially if it is improperly treated. This disease is of a specific nature that manifests itself, first, by an initial inoculation, later by a rash; this breaking down into ulcers, swelling of the lymphatic glands and falling out of the hair. I stop the progress of this disease, eradicate every vestige of the poison from the system, and my cures are permanent—no return of the disease. My treatment and cure is no new discovery with me and has long since passed the experimental stage. I work to destroying against arsenic, mercury and dangerous injections. "cures you in 48 hours," etc. You know this is unreasonable and extravagant claims of patent medicine and system of cures which might give temporary relief, but no permanent cures. What you want is a cure for life and no effect on your posterity. I have this cure and will give it to you. Under my treatment the cure is rapid and the external symptoms in a few days disappear, while the blood, the tissue, the nerve fibers, the bones and the whole system is cleansed, strengthened and restored to perfect health and purity.

SPECIAL NOTICE FOR MEN AND WOMEN
If you have been taking treatment for weeks and months and paying out your hard-earned money without being cured, don't you think it is high time to accept my grand offer and be cured quickly? As you will certainly not be out any more money if not cured. If I believe that your condition will not yield readily to my treatment, I will be honest with you and tell you so and not accept your money under promise of a cure.

YOU MAY PAY OTHERS FOR FAILURES, BUT—YOU PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY

I wish to say that I am against high and extortionate fees charged by some doctors and specialists. You will find my charges are for cures only, and they are always reasonable and not more than you are willing to pay for skillful and efficient treatment. No man is too poor to receive my best efforts in his behalf.
I am a regular graduate in medicine and surgery, and licensed.
Long established, permanently located, thoroughly reliable.
CALL OR WRITE—No detention from business. Treatment and advice confidential. Hours 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

ASSOCIATION WITH THIS GIRL STARTED JOHNSON'S TROUBLES

LUCILE CAMERON.

The negro pugilist, who is under indictment in Chicago under charges connecting him with the white slave traffic, might have escaped arrest if he had been less bold in his attempts to retain possession of the pretty white girl who had been arrested on complaint of her mother because of her open association with him. The girl will be the chief witness against him when he is brought to trial.

Harrison Home Was Robbed On Saturday

When Mr. and Mrs. James R. Harrison, of East Eighth street, started away from their home early Saturday evening to do some shopping down town, they noticed a man partly concealed behind a telephone pole.

Becoming suspicious they retraced their steps and tried all the windows and doors in their home. Two hours later they returned and found the kitchen door wide open. Their home had been burglarized. A gold ring, a pair of shoes and several small articles were taken.

They are convinced that the man who was shadowing them committed the robbery and have furnished the police with a description that fits him to a nicety. It is not known how the thief gained admittance to the home, as all the doors were securely locked when Mr. and Mrs. Harrison left it.

BIKE AND AUTO COLLIDED SUNDAY

John Kilcoyne and family, while motoring on the West Side near Union Mills Sunday, had the misfortune to run into a boy rid, ing a bicycle. Both Mr. Kilcoyne's machine and the boy were on the right side, but just as another automobile was passing, the boy got directly in front of Mr. Kilcoyne's car, the front wheel of which went over the bicycle. The boy escaped harm. Mr. Kilcoyne brought the lad back to the city and paid him the damage to his bicycle. The boy's name was not learned, but he is said to live on Eleventh street.

STANDARD REMEDY FOR WOMAN'S ILLS

now recognized the world over is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and fair-minded physicians recognize its worth and do not hesitate to prescribe it.

WILL OFFER REWARD

Mayor Fred N. Tynes expects to ask city council at its next meeting for an appropriation for a reward for information leading to the arrest of the person, or persons, responsible for the numerous false fire alarms. The Mayor thinks it high time that something be done to put an end to the dangerous practice.

Architects Devoss and Patterson have completed the plans for the new addition that the Pleasant Green Baptist church will add to its north end church. The contract will be awarded in a few days.

PORTSMOUTH BOY RODE WINNER

The Army Steeplechase, the annual event of the season at Piping, Long Island, was run Saturday, and a Portsmouth boy, Captain James Dickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Dickey, of this city, rode the winner. For his skill as a horseman he was presented with a magnificent loving cup that cost $400.

There were fifteen entries and several thousand people witnessed the exciting race. Among the spectators were the high officials in the Army and Navy, who cheered the winner enthusiastically.

MRS. LEWIS IS DOING NICELY

Word came from Columbus Monday that Mrs. Frank E. Lewis was recovering nicely from her recent severe surgical operation. It was far more serious than first reported as a tumerous infection was discovered near the gall duct. Robert Lewis, who has been with his mother, who is in the Grant hospital, will not return home until the latter part of the week. He is the guest of Socrates Plummer.

Schilder A Visitor

Edgar Schilder, who has been paying a short visit to local friends, left Sunday for his home in Chillicothe, where he will spend the balance of a two weeks' vacation in the hunting fields. He is another nimrod who believes in the annihilation of the Bob White family.

Mr. Schilder has received an offer from an Eastern paper and will probably accept it and give up his present work on the Indianapolis Star.

CHEERFUL NEWS

For Feeble Old People.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectually than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil is the ideal strengthener and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

A grand niece of Alexander Hamilton, over eighty years of age, once remarked: "Vinol is a godsend to old people. Thanks to Vinol I have a hearty appetite, sleep soundly, feel active and well. It is the finest tonic and strength-creator I have ever used."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble old people, and create strength we will return your money. —Frank Amann, Druggist, Market street, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Steam Rollers Are The Winners Again

(By H. M. S.)

Attendance	221
Steam Rollers	114
Rough Riders	94
Neutral	13

Those "Steam Rollers" of the big Men's Bible Class at Trinity bested the "Rough Riders" again Sunday, for the fourth consecutive time, and they did it by a good decisive score. There is no gainsaying the fact that those "Rollers" have the bulge on the "Riders" in the way of territory to draw from, and this accounts for their constant wins, although this writer would not take one iota of credit from them for the good strong effort and solid work they have done to a man, from Col. Park Mills, the clever chief, down to the last man in the ranks, but the "Rough Riders" have, and are working like Trojans, too, to bring the proud honor of the state record to the men's class at Trinity. But the fact is that the "Rollers" have the territory to pull from. They have the hill-tops, all of the East End up to and back of East Portsmouth, Funk's Gut and the Ohio Valley and north to Chillicothe, the same that is reputed to have been the garden of Eden.

Now, with the "Riders" it's different. They are mostly down town silk stocking fellows, doctors, lawyers, merchants, shoe men, insurance agents, postal clerks, newspaper men and others of the aristocracy, and of course the supply is not so great or the territory so large. Anyway, the contest is still on and the "Riders" will try again next Sunday to down the "Rollers."

Mr. Chas. Tracy read the Scripture lesson and led in prayer. Prof. John McMillan conducted a fine song service, after which a quartet composed of Miss Gladys Cross and Messrs. Pake, Matthiott and McMillan sang "Lead Me Gently Home, Father" with fine effect. Some singers, those good people.

Prof. Jas. H. Finney always is unusually good Sunday. Mr. Finney never fails to hold the intense interest of his audience from beginning to close of his address.

After the lesson Mr. Charles Bridwell in a neat speech, called attention to a matter of interest to the class and Methodist congregation. Mr. J. D. Cox, a member of the class, states that his wife's great grandfather was one of the principal characters in the serial story "Micanaqua, or The Lost Sister of Wyoming," now running in The Sunday School Classmate. The story is a thrilling chapter in the early history of our country—during the days of the Revolutionary war. The scene is in the fertile Wyoming valley in Pennsylvania, near Wilkesbarre. It is a typical story of the savage Indian warfare of these days, privation, heroism and suffering. The gentlemen mentioned as one of the principal characters now lies at rest in Funk's cemetery, here on the hill.

Why Druggists Believe In "NURITO"
The New and Effective Remedy for Rheumatism, Sciatica and Neuritis

We want all the sufferers in this city to know why we believe in "Nurito," because their belief is bound to be founded on ours.
This new, progressive remedy is the work of a doctor whose standing we know. There is no mystery about it—no patent medicine deception. Like those who are to-day working in great advances in medicine the world over, this physician has simply combined and combined ingredients which separately were recognized by doctors as having a tendency to drive the uric acid poison out of the system.
It is their unique combination which is new. Instead of a mere tendency to relieve, "Nurito" gives absolute relief which is as permanent as the relief from any disease can be.
There is neither narcotic nor opiate in this prescription—simply a harmless powder which is a complete antidote for uric acid poison. Patients who have been almost distracted by the knife-thrust, darting, rheumatic pains have been greatly relieved in a very few hours and entirely relieved in a remarkably short time.
Doctors through out the country believe in "Nurito"—they have sent to work. We, as druggists, give it our fullest endorsement. We know that there is certain relief here for every sufferer and that after a single $1 box will be the most convincing evidence of it. Compounded by Mayfield Chemical Co., Pittston Bldg., N. Y.

SHANGHAI IS POLICED BY MEN OF MANY NATIONS.

The town of Shanghai commonly called the Foreign Settlement, consists of an area of about nine square miles, and its total population is about 252,000. Of these 510,000 are Chinese and the rest are of various nationalities, of which the British considerably exceed others, except the Japanese. In general it may be said that the duties of the force consist of the routine police work of a quickly developing modern business centre, such as control of traffic, maintenance of order in public streets, and other ordinary duties. This routine has, however, been somewhat modified to suit the climate and local needs. The chief difference between the duties performed and those of a force in a large English town is in the detective work, which is of a special kind, since the criminal classes are chiefly Chinese, and the settlement is surrounded by the French Settlement, of similar character, the native city, and scattered villages under native control. The force consists of the European, generally called the foreign branch, at its full strength numbering 260 men; the Indian branch, numbering about 500 men, and the Chinese branch, numbering 1,000 men.

BAR PAYS TRIBUTE TO JUDGE CHERRINGTON

Resolutions pertaining to the death of Thomas Cherrington, late Judge of the circuit court, were brought up in circuit court Saturday afternoon just before the court recessed the November term.

Many of the attorneys of the local bar were in court when the resolutions were presented by Judge Noah J. Dever, who took occasion to extoll the virtues of the deceased jurist as a man, lawyer and a judge. In closing he asked that the resolutions be adopted and Judge Blair in seconding the motion stated that nothing that could be said could add to the lustre and character and record of Judge Cherrington. Others, including Captain N. W. Evans, Judge A. T. Holcomb, George O. Newman, Judges Sayre, Walters and Jones, were heard and all paid beautiful tributes to the dead jurist, and concurred in the sentiments expressed in the resolutions.

Before recessing, Judge Jones, presiding officer of the court, stated that this was the last time they would appear here as the circuit court, as when they come again they would be wearing the robes of the new court of appeals. He urged the attorneys to assist them in every way possible, as is necessary and import and in a court of final jurisdiction.

The following resolution was then unanimously adopted by a rising vote, and then ordered spread on the court journal:

To the Scioto County, Ohio, Bar Association, Portsmouth, O.:

Your committee heretofore appointed to prepare and present resolutions upon the death of Judge Thomas Cherrington, makes the following report:

Thomas Cherrington served his country as a soldier in the Civil war, going out in the ranks he held a major's commission at the close of his service. Entering his profession of the law at the close of the war he at once took prominent rank as a lawyer. He was early elected and served as Prosecuting Attorney of his county. As a practitioner he had a large and lucrative practice and participated in many a hard fought contest, but the service for which he will be longest remembered and most revered was his remarkable and almost unprecedented career upon the circuit court bench.

Upon the organization of the circuit court he was elected one of its first judges, drawing, by lot, the short term, two years. For four successive terms thereafter he was re-elected. At the close of his fifth term he voluntarily retired, declining further re-election. His entire service as circuit judge, which terminated on February 9, 1911, but a little more than a year prior to his death, was twenty-six years. He was loved, honored, respected and revered by the bench, the bar and litigants.

Resolved, That in the death of Judge Cherrington the circuit has lost a jurist of rare ability, whose labors were invaluable, the bar has lost a member of enviable attainments, and the community has lost a noble, honest, honorable, broad-minded and patriotic citizen, and that we will ever cherish and hold in reverential remembrance his eminent attainments and his admirable bearing to his brethren on the bench and at the bar.

Resolved, That we tender to the family of the deceased our heartfelt sympathies and condolences.

Resolved, That the chairman of this association be, and he hereby is, requested to present these resolutions to the circuit court of this county, with the request that the same be spread upon the records of the court, and that a copy be presented to the family of the deceased.

Noah J. Dever,
John C. Milner,
Wm. D. James,
Anselm T. Holcomb,
Albion Z. Blair.

EXCELLENT SERMONS AT ALL SAINTS CHURCH

Rev. E. A. Powell, of All Saints' church, delivered two good sermons Sunday. His morning subject was "What Are We Doing?" He complimented the parishioners on the work that had been done at All Saints' church, but he urged them to go forward with more rapid strides in the future. A strong plea was made to build up the church.

In the evening he spoke on "The Privilege of Being Strong," taking his text from the words, "the strong must bear the burdens of the weak."

Rev. Powell spoke of Christ bearing with all sorts and conditions of men, and the Christian must do the same. He said there are too many Christians (?) who talk and do nothing. Religion, according to Rev. Powell, is not a thing that talks, but something that does.

The true Christian will bear with his weaker brother. He will not laugh and make fun of another's belief, but he will endeavor to show him the wrong, if there is a wrong.

Rev. Powell's sermon was heard by a large congregation, the bulk of it being business men of the city, who thoroughly enjoyed the service.

Break Ground For Sunday Tabernacle

Columbus, O., Nov. 18.—Ground has been broken for the "Billy" Sunday tabernacle to be erected at the corner of West Goodale and Park streets, and the building is to be completed by the latter part of December. The revival services are to open about January 7 and will continue for about six weeks.

The building is to cover the tract formerly occupied by the Columbus auditorium, extending from Goodale street to Poplar avenue. On the west side it will extend over about half the sidewalk on Park street. The sides will be sheet iron as required by the city building inspector, and other requirements of the building department will be strictly observed. The exits will all be on the Park street side.

J. S. Spiece, of the Ry. Y. M. C. A., has the contract for the erection of the building, which will cost $35,500.

WEEK OF PRAYER AT CEN. PRES. CHURCH

Rev. W. H. Christian of the Central Presbyterian church, began a week of prayer services Sunday in commemorating Home Mission Week. His two sermons delivered yesterday were heard and enjoyed by very large congregations. The morning subject was "Our Country's Debt to Christ." In the evening he spoke on "Units in Making Our Country God's Country."

Tonight he will speak on "American Indians, Africans and Asiatics."

G. W. C. Perry, the present incumbent, has had the office for nearly nine years. His term expires Dec. 12. He is an applicant to succeed himself.

Two Fine Sermons

Rev. B. E. Fishback, of the First German Methodist church in Cincinnati, delivered two splendid sermons at the German Methodist church, this city, Sunday.

In the morning he delivered a sermon in German on "Open Windows" and in the evening a large crowd heard his splendid address on "Lower and Higher Service."

Rev. Fishback was here in the interest of church extension work and a good collection was taken up for his Cincinnati work.

EX-RESIDENT ROBBED IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 18—Another purse-snatcher is emulating the example of the young colored man who was so active a few weeks ago. Mrs. Harry Lowry, of 976 Neil avenue, reported to the police Saturday night that a white man snatched her hand bag at 7:30 as she was passing Fifth and Town streets. The hand bag contained $7 and street car tickets.

Mrs. Lowry is a former Portsmouth resident.

FIRST DEFEAT IN 5 YEARS

The defeat of the local high school at the hands of the Huntington eleven Saturday, marked the first defeat in five years, which is a record that is pretty hard to equal. Not once in the past five years has the local scholastic team tasted defeat, so the boys are not worrying over the decisive beating it received on Saturday.

NEWS WHILE IT IS NEWS

PORTSMOUTH WAS OUTPLAYED BY THE HUNTINGTON ELEVEN

Just outplayed, is the whole story in a nutshell of Portsmouth High school's defeat Saturday afternoon by Huntington High on the latter's grounds in a rather lopsided contest. When the referee's whistle emitted the last blast sounding the close of the final quarter, the Portsmouth boys were the vanquished by a score of 32 to 0.

In the old style of the game the local boys showed superior playing and training, but in the open play the Huntington boys were head and shoulders above their opponents. It was Portsmouth's first game away from home the season and incidentally their first taste of defeat in several years.

The Huntington Herald-Dispatch has the following important comment on the game:

"Through the first three quarters of the football game at League park yesterday afternoon between Huntington and Portsmouth High schools the rival teams fought hard to gain advantage, but the two teams were apparently so evenly matched that the result was in doubt until the final quarter, when the locals bewildered the visitors with a series of fast forward passes, and bagged the game by a score of 32 to 0. At the close of the third quarter the score was 7 to 0 in favor of Huntington High.

The two teams entered into the game with spirit, and it looked like a hard tussle from the first kickoff. The sides were evenly matched as to weight and speed. The Portsmouth aggregation, however, lost the game through apparent lack of training in the open style of play. They depended on old-fashioned, straight football, while the locals have been thoroughly drilled in the 1912 model of play, and after the first few minutes made few attempts to gain by straight bucks through the opposing line.

The Portsmouth line held better than did Huntington, and it was evident from the start that the local could hope to make but little headway through it. What gains Portsmouth made, and they made a number of consistent gains, were made through Huntington's defense, and not around it. When the visitors came dangerously near the local goal, however, Huntington's line stiffened and held the attacking team on downs. Three times Portsmouth reached the ten-yard line, only to be held by the locals for downs, and Dornick's toe put the ball out of danger.

The first touchdown was made by Dornick on a long forward pass, in the first quarter. Dornick kicked goal, score 7 to 0.

During the remainder of the first quarter and the two quarters following, not a tally was annexed by either side, the oval see-sawing up and down the field, but never crossing the line.

In the final quarter, the locals began working the forward pass. Freutel the first left end of the locals, started with three consecutive touchdowns to his credit in a little more than ten minutes. Each touchdown was made on a forward pass. Stevenson also went over the goal line on a forward pass, bringing the total score to 32 to 0, where it remained at the close of the game. Dornick threw the ball on forward passes with speed and accuracy, and the Portsmouth defenders were completely at the mercy of the locals in this play.

Portsmouth also worked the forward pass successfully on several occasions, but their gains were not large nor consistent.

The lineup:

Huntington.		Portsmouth
Freutel	L. E.	Weld
Roach	R. E.	Jones
McLaughlin	R. T.	Johnson
Dial	L. T.	Mullen
Myers	C.	Flint
Ensign	R. G.	Moore
McWilliams	L. G.	Allen
Stevenson	Q. B.	Revare
Butler	L. H.	Williams
Dornick	F. B.	Fadal
Fagan	R. H.	Harris

Substitutions: W. Fagan for J. Fagan; Wildmore for Butler; Anderson for Stevenson; Lowe for Roach.

Referee: Dr. I. J. Kail. Umpire, Davidson.

Portsmouth had five men. Borre, Quinn, Blendal, Nutter and Test, as substitutes, but no substitutions were made.

CHANCE TO LEAD YANKS

New York, Nov. 18.—Frank Chance will direct the destinies of the New York Americans in 1913 if Frank Farrell is successful in his negotiations to get the Peerless Leader out of the National league. Mr. Farrell steadfastly asserts that he has made no overtures to the deposed leader of the Cubs. These assertions fall in line with a policy to keep the matter of negotiations as secret as possible.

That Farrell has broached the matter to Chance and broached it in no light vein, comes from the Peerless Leader himself. When "Husk" returned to the coast after his fight with Murphy, he told a close friend that he would surely be in New York next season if he could get out of the National league. He said that Frank Farrell had made him a generous offer, one that would more than compensate him for the ignominy of his dismissal from the Cubs.

C. W. Murphy's breezy chatter seems to have scared National league club owners off the Peerless Leader. When the "Verbose One" asked waivers only two clubs, Cincinnati and Pittsburg, claimed the man who made the Cubs famous. Murphy had circulated the report that Chance's head was never quite as sound after he underwent an operation for the removal of a blood clot.

It is learned that Herrmann and Dreyfuss claimed Chance in order to thwart Murphy's purpose of sending the former idol back to the infants. Neither, it is said, intends to keep him as player or manager. If this is true, some way should be found to get Chance out of the National league. Frank Farrell is a very close friend of both Herrmann and Dreyfuss.

Ironton Juniors Lost Game At Millbrook

It was back to Ironton with a tale of defeat that the Ironton Juniors returned home Saturday night after matching their wits and football stability with the Portsmouth Juniors. At Millbrook stadium Saturday afternoon before a good sized crowd the local youths drew a victory and sweet revenge for the defeat of the Saturday previous, winning hands down by a score of 24 to 6. The score the week previous was 13 to 6 in favor of the Lawrence countians.

No wrangling occurred to mar the game. The locals won on their merits and the visitors went down to defeat gracefully, taking their medicine like the little men they are. Fragmonis of play during the game distinguished York, Watkins, Noll, Matthews, Thomas Williams and Selby. Pierce and Horchow figured conspicuously in the line plunging. Davis, a chunky little Lawrence countian, was the luminary of the game for the visitors.

With the game standing "hoss and hoss," arrangements are being made to play the "rubber" on next Saturday, probably in Ironton.

French Taking Lead In Boxing

Milwaukee, Nov. 18—It looks as if the French people are going to lead the world in holding boxing championships. They have partly got one now in the person of Johnny Coulon, who is half French and half Irish. Ledoux is another Frenchman who is making good, and we all know that Joe Mandot, New Orleans, is almost a champion, and his father a champion. Among the heavyweights Palzer tops the list, and he is about as far from being an Irishman as Dublin is from Frankfort-on-the-Main.

George Carpentier is going to try for heavyweight honors and it's no tell-ing what may happen if the big fellow is well handled. Where are the Irish? Packey McFarland is about to retire and there isn't one good 135-pounder in the fight game who can say he comes from real Irish stock. Johnny Kilbane is the only Irishman at the present time who is holding a title.

Of course, McGoorty and Gibbons are of Celtic block, but as yet neither is a champion.

Smoke House Eleven Beaten On Sunday

When the Smoke House team left its own back yard to slip into the nucleus of civilization of Ross county, basking in the sun along the banks of Paint creek, the aggregation attended a little surprise party not of its own wooing, and as a result went down to defeat in a classily played football game by the score of 45 to 0. In the series, Portsmouth drew first blood, winning 12 to 0, several weeks ago. Chillicothe came back and tapped a Portsmouth victory, forcing out a victory by three points better than that score.

Fumbles, the bane of any game, were expensive for Portsmouth. They paved the way for victory for the Chillicothians. The sting of defeat was partially alleviated by the hospitable entertainment extended the local boys. They were royally treated, given the keys of the town and told to help themselves. Members of the squad so much enjoyed the entertainments of the Ancient Metropolis that they did not return until 4 o'clock last Sunday night, and if reports are true, some of them are thinking seriously of permanently locating in Chillicothe.

Gives Wagner Credit For Beating Giants

Boston, Nov. 18.—One player—a Red Sox player—is the individual who was praised the New York Giants to fall before the Boston team in the recent world's series, in the opinion of John J. McGraw, the famous manager of the Giants, who said as much at an informal reception given for him by B. F. Keith at the B. A. A. recently.

While the fans have been placing the blame for New York's defeat on the shoulders of a couple of the Giants, McGraw says it was "Heinie" Wagner, the Red Sox shortstop who did it.

"That's the fellow that beat us," said McGraw. "With him off your Boston team we should have won the championship.

"Baseball is an old proposition to me," continued McGraw, "and I always believe in giving credit where it is due. It is Heinie Wagner, the shortstop of the Boston team, whom I blame for the Giants not winning the championship. With him out of the way, we would have been the winners. He played such a marvelous fielding game that it was a big block to us.

"Speaker was also a power of strength. He moved about so much in the field that he played more like a shortstop than a fielder. He was in front of every play that came his way.

"Hooper made the greatest catch I ever saw on a ball field, and you can go down the line from Stahl, Yerkes and Gardner. All played a great game against us.

"What impressed me the most in the series was the work of Matthewson. The playing of Herzog and Murray also was brilliant."

"If Pittsburg can secure Roger Bresnahan that team should walk through the next National league race without having the slightest trouble. Even without Bresnahan the pennant is already conceded to the Pirates, and with this veteran catcher to help out it would almost be a cinch. Fred Clarke has gathered about him a team if youngsters which stands out, according to all reports, a fine pitching staff of youngsters second to none in either league. With a fast outfield and a great infield there is very little left to be desired, and should he get Bresnahan to help out Gibson behind the bat he would have every reason to claim the pennant."—Washington Star.

M'LEAN WILL PLAY WITH BROWNS

Dayton, O., Nov. 18.—Larry McLean is practically certain of being a member of the St. Louis Browns at the start of the 1913 season. Secretary Bruce, whose home is in Cincinnati, thinks Larry will make good in a different clime and as he is a stockholder in the Browns, it is very probable Larry will be an American league backstop next summer. Colonel Hedges, president of the Browns, is in the west at the present time, and it is likely the deal will be completed when he returns.

Fielder Jones does not think well of the attempt made by some of the magnates to force the players to observe strict temperance rules. It is an impossibility, says the former Sox leader, and cannot help but cause trouble.

LOCAL BOYS HEROES OF BIG GAME

Two Portsmouth boys, "Gib" Micklethwait and Arthur Lynn, contributed to Ohio University's first victory of the season Saturday at Athens, when Ustethesh was taken into camp by the score of 7 to 0. "Gib" stuck to his old position at right tackle and played brilliantly. Lynn, who played on the local high school team, broke into the game at right end. It was his first big college game and he performed in veteran fashion. Local friends of the two gridiron exponents were pleased to see the Portsmouth boys' names in the lineup. Needless to say the duo were elated over their first victory.

M'INTYRE STARS HAVE GOOD RECORD.

The McIntyre Store boasts an excellent record for the season of 1912.

This team won 24 and tied one out of a total of 29 games played.

The team that produced Ziemer, Livingston, Welch and several others will furnish the usual quota for service in the ranks of professional baseball players. Deal and Hoffilk go to the American association. McGrail has signed to play with a team in the Three-I league.

The team has already laid plans for a re-organization for the season of 1913.

Ball Clubs In Scramble To Get Ted Pendleton

If Ted Pendleton, the Princeton football and baseball star, decides to mingle with the big league organization when he graduates next spring there is likely to be a scramble to secure the services of the much-touted college ball player, who Charlie Sterrett says is good enough to make his mark with the boys in the big yards.

Jack Dunn, manager of the Baltimore club in the International league, states that he has a promise from Ted that he will play with his club when he finishes at college. Dunn claims that he got the consent of Pendleton just before the world's series. Pendleton has also given his word to Clark Griffith to play with the Washington club. Harry Wolverton, the ex-manager of the Yankees, saw the player last summer in Washington and had first call on the boy from Old Nassau. Charlie Sterrett introduced Pendleton to Wolverton at the Arlington hotel in Washington, and it is believed that he gave his word to the Yonkee club that he would play with the Yankees when he was through with his studies. Pendleton, it would seem, is flooded with offers from many clubs, and will not have much trouble in finding a position.

The various managers around the big league circuit have no doubt secured some very favorable reports about the player. They were told that Ted had the earmarks of a coming big league star, and now that some more favorable reports of his ability have been received the managers will be renewing their efforts to land him. Getting right down to brass tacks, it looks as if the Yankees will get him.

Charlie Sterrett gave Pendleton a great boost in the Yankee clubhouse last summer, when he said that he was faster than Cobb and a great hitter, and that he would make good in the big league right from the start. Sterrett also said that he did not see any one in the big league who could go down to first base as fast as Pendleton, unless it was Shotten, the fleet-footed outfielder of the St. Louis club. Watch the big rush for Ted Pendleton.

SHORT SPORT

Frank Chance was in a benefit game at Washington park in Los Angeles the other day, and while sitting on the bench hit Murphy for a few more goals when he was asked what he was going to do in baseball next season.

"I am not surprised at Murphy selling me for $15,000. That is about his size. Fifteen hundred dollars looks big to him. Why, I have a pup out on the ranch that I wouldn't sell for that price. He is doing nothing but trying to make me look cheap. For last and all, I do not know what I am going to do next summer."

Hal Chase is taking up basketball this winter. He thinks it is a great game to keep a fellow in shape for the hard work he has to do on the training trip. He is the manager of a team which will play all winter. While it makes most readers laugh to hear ball players say they expect the coming winter to be the best one of their career, Chase says watch him skip around at the first sack next season.

Ed Sweeney states that he is keeping in great shape with plenty of hard work around his garage in Chicago that he is as hard as a rock and will not have to worry about the spring training trip.

There were rumors around the American league circuit last summer to the effect that Bert Daniels would be one of the Yankee players who would hear the rattle of the famous can. But Bert went at such a fast clip when he got going that there was a sudden change in the idea of tying the said tinware to him. What is more, the general opinion seems to be that he will be with the Yankees again next season, as he has proven himself to be a very handy person to have around.

SEES GAME; GRABS BALL; TEN DAYS IN HOSPITAL.

New York, Nov. 18.—Herman Strobele saw his first football game Saturday. He will be out of the hospital, barring unfavorable developments, in ten days.

Herman was not the bruised halfback of the Orioles, nor even the broken collar bone in the right end of the Bay Ridge A. C. Herman is the man who stole the ball. Herman was a spectator.

It was about the last minute of the third period when the Orioles halfback, making a mighty run, dropped the ball near the side line. "Grab it, Herman, grab it!" screeched somebody in the crowd. "It's your ball; grab it and run."

And Herman did. Catching the pigskin for which brave boys were bleeding on that battlefield, he started across lots at his utmost speed. For an instant the players of both teams stood aghast. Then with the unity of a common wrath they "followed the ball."

Dr. Dugan, from the Norwegian hospital, said the right leg was broken and there were internal injuries.

Experienced catchers are always in demand, and though Johnny Kling was anything but a success with Boston last year, Miller Huggins, the new manager of the Cardinals, is anxious to secure his release, figuring that Kling will be just the man to take Bresnahan's place on the catching staff. It is very likely that he will secure him, since Roger Stallings, the Braves' new manager, does not propose to carry Kling.

Local People Saw Michigan Win Game

When two weak, inferior teams meet on the gridiron the stronger of the two will invariably walk away with a victory.

So it was with Michigan Saturday, the Wolverines triumphing over Cornell, 20 to 7. Both teams are the disappointments of 1912 in a football way. Equipped with fragile lines, an ordinary backfield and a lot of players who have failed to grasp the fundamentals of the game, these great colleges' reputation for turning out aggressive, winning football teams, has suffered this season. Neither has done anything even of an ordinary nature this fall on the gridiron.

It is conceded that Cornell has the weakest team in its history and Michigan the poorest. But the Yostites came back strong Saturday and beat their eastern opponents in a rather decisive style. The game was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Haldeman and Tom Ely, Karl Zoellner, Orin B. Oakes, Evan Williams, Howard Harsha, Jr., and Dr. William Tremper, of this city.

NOVEL PLAN FOR ORGANIZED BALL

Walter McCredie, president of the Portland (Ore.) club of the Pacific Coast league, would revolutionize the organization of baseball. He would erect a structure around each of the sixteen major league clubs, forcing each club to recruit from its own house or family, establish fixed salaries for the players in every league except the majors and eliminate all financial operations regarding players except salaries.

McCredie says that the trouble with baseball of today, particularly in the leagues under the AA classification, is that many of the clubs cannot afford to pay the salaries necessary to maintain a good team.

McCredie's scheme would permit each major league club to reach down through its chain of subordinate clubs and pick up the men it needs, not holding it to the AA club immediately under it. The AA clubs would be entitled to reach downward to the first step if necessary and secure recruits with not a cent paid for the men in any case.

IT'S TINKER SAYS BRUCE

Dayton, O., Nov. 18.—"Joe Tinker will be the next summer manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and he ought to make a capable leader," declared John E. Bruce, secretary of the National commission, while in this city Saturday morning. Mr. Bruce, who was in this city attending to some private business, found time to discuss the Cincinnati situation in a general manner. He declared there was no doubt of Tinker landing the Cincinnati job, but that a few details of the deal remained unarranged a definite announcement could not be made by President Herrmann, of the Reds. Bruce, who is one of the best posted men in baseball, being a stockholder in the St. Louis Browns as well as the Cincinnati club, is of the opinion that Tinker has every requirement of a good manager.

"He knows the game right up to the handle," said Bruce, "and I believe he will prove his ability to teach the younger players and keep the team moving at its best clip. There are still several years of good play left in Joe, and he was just as good as ever in the field last season. Placed at the head of the club, with every reason to show his best efforts, I believe he will play the grandest ball of his career for the Cincinnati club next season. It has been a long time since the Reds have had a star shortstop and the fans down our way are more than pleased with the deal for Tinker."

How Rabbit Broke Up A Ball Game

Here is the very latest baseball story.

Sunday afternoon, while two teams from the North End were playing at the Seventeenth street grounds, Leon Anderson walloped a ball away to deep center. The bruised bulb finally dropped in a little ravine, and no sooner did it alight than a rabbit, sleek and fat jumped high in the air and made for the tall and uncut.

Then the fun really began. The players with ball and bats gave chase, yelling like so many Comanche Indians. Over hill and dale the rabbit was chased, cutting all sorts of capers on Sunnyside addition. It finally took refuge in a ravine, and while the players beat the brush thereabouts, yet the rabbit never left his hiding place until the crowd was recruited by a couple of hounds.

The "scent" was soon struck and when the baying hounds came within hearing distance the rabbit hopped out and made for the hill back of Theo. K. Funk's home. The last seen of the rabbit he was going through the woods so fast you could see the blue smoke left in his trail.

Whether the rabbit was caught or not, the Times informant did not know. But it was a chase, and while it temporarily broke up a ball game, nevertheless it afforded all sorts of amusement to the spectators as well as the players, who certainly had their wind tested.

BASEBALL

Harry Wolverton, former manager of the Yankees, was in New York recently and spread the report that Connie Mack would succeed him at the helm of the New York team. Just where Wolverton got his information is not known, but there is not apt to be any truth in the story, though such a move would undoubtedly be of great benefit to the American league. It is reported that Mack has just come into possession of half of the stock of the Philadelphia club. It is not likely that with his interests in Philadelphia he would consider any sort of proposition from the New York club to manage that team. It is estimated that Mack's holdings in the Philadelphia club are worth nearly $250,000, much too large an investment to warrant his accepting a position elsewhere and allowing a salaried individual to look after his interests in Philadelphia.

Henry Berry of the Los Angeles club has carried off the honors among the minors for deals made at the Grand City convention.

Willis Cole, former White Sox outfielder, who makes his home at Milton, Wis., and plays with the Lincoln, Neb., team now, was shot in the back while hunting rabbits near his home.

Manager Cantillon of the Minneapolis team is loud in his praise of Otis Clymer, the veteran outfielder secured by the Cubs in the draft. The Miller leader would like to have Clymer back again next summer.

Jimmy Burke, former manager of the Indianapolis team, says he will try to get back into the game next summer as a player on the St. Louis Browns.

President Navin of Detroit has sold Charlie Schmidt, the veteran catcher, to the Mobile club of the Southern league. Schmidt was with Providence in the Eastern league most of last season.

Fielder Jones, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, is being spoken of as leader of the New York Yankees next season. That is about as close as he will come to taking the job, too.

The Frisco scribes who were at the Milwaukee meeting sent stories back to their papers that Ping Bodie would likely be back with the Seals next year.

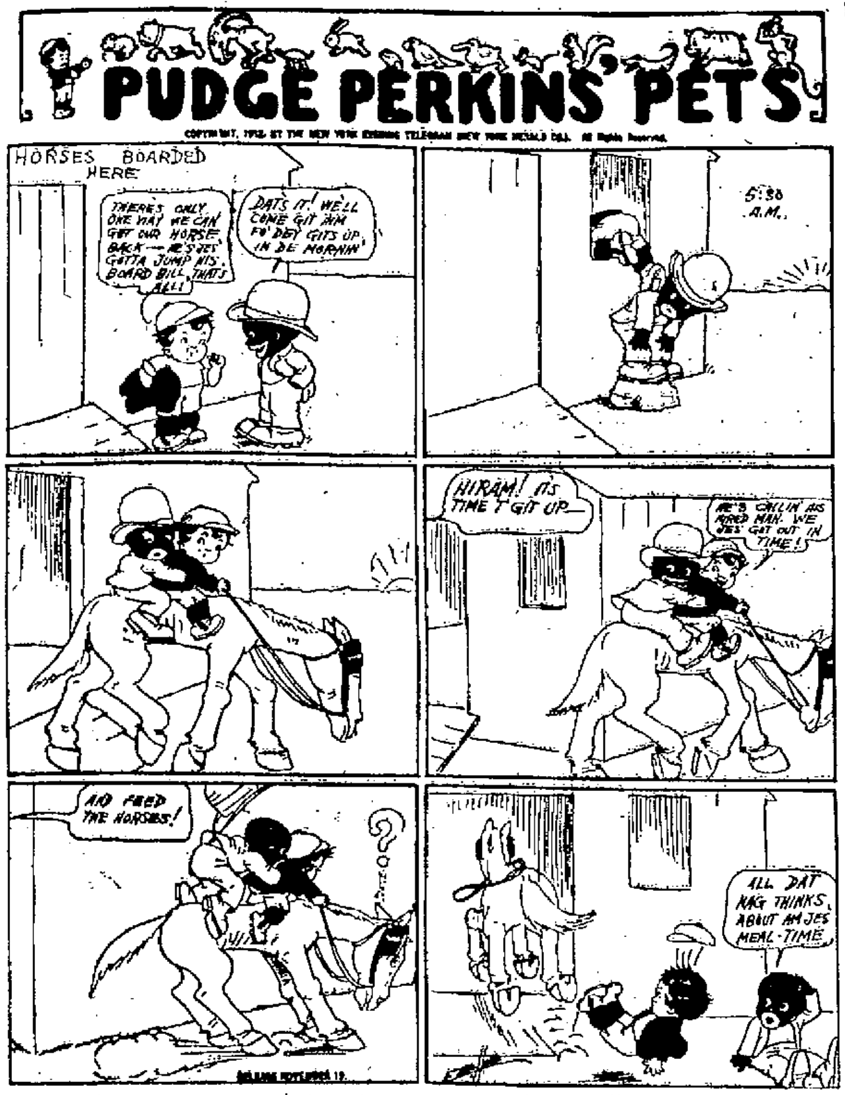

Barry McCormick, who will manage the Peoria team next year, will have a good chance to make good, for the officers of the club are enthusiastic about him.

Ad Wolgast has been presented with the diamond belt offered by Tom McCarey for the winner of the Wolgast-Rivers battle of July 4.

Albian Schneider Goes Suddenly Insane

Albian Schneider, an aged citizen who for many years has been employed on one of Albert Maier's ice wagons, went suddenly insane late Sunday night.

Schneider, who has been ill for a week and perfectly harmless, became violent, and leaving his bed about 1 a. m., dressed himself and bolted from the house. The members of the family asked Merchant Policeman John Kielman to take him into custody. When Kielman started to lay hands on Schneider in front of the Washington hotel the latter showed fight and a desperate struggle ensued. Police officers finally came to Kielman's assistance and Schneider was safely landed in a cell at the city prison, where he has been raving furiously and refusing to take nourishment. Mr. Schneider's condition is thought to be due to broken health. He had a similar attack many years ago. Schneider has always been a quiet, industrious and peaceful citizen and his many friends hope for his speedy recovery. His family lives at No. 410 Market street.

Will Make Brooms

Al Duplain, well-known mill man and former police officer, has decided to embark in the broom manufacturing business.

Mr. Duplain has rented the old Burgess mill carpenter shop fronting on the West End mill lot, and will at once install machinery. Besides brooms he also expects to manufacture brushes and dusters. Al is an old broom-maker by trade. He learned his trade at the old Edmunds broom factory at Front and Massie streets during the early '70s. He may also make a specialty of steamboat brooms, which are larger and heavier than the ordinary house broom.

Will Elect Trustees For St. Mary's Church

Rev. Father T. Goebel, pastor of St. Mary's church, Sunday announced that a meeting of the congregation would be held December 1 to select a committee of three members, who together with the pastor, will compose a committee to nominate eight others for trustees. These will be voted on later and the four receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected. All of the present trustees who have been serving for many years, expect to resign and heartily favor the new plan adopted.

FEW CHANGES IN THE NEW N. & W. TIME CARD

It was announced Monday that only a few slight changes would be included in the new time table of the N. & W., which is to go into effect next Sunday, November 24. The present train service is highly satisfactory to the traveling public.

Supt. Carey says there may be 18 and 20 minute changes in half of the trains, but the changes are of a slight nature. Train No. 34, which arrives here at 9:24 every night from Cincinnati, may be switched to 7:28, a move of this character being considered seriously. No new trains will be added or none will be taken off.

Mr. Crane Honored In The Queen City

The high esteem in which William H. Crane is held was evidenced last week when Cincinnati business men gave him a complimentary banquet. The Enquirer said of the affair:

"Cincinnati paid honor to William H. Crane, the veteran actor, yesterday at a luncheon given to him at the Business Men's Club, and business and professional men stopped the daily grind long enough to do tribute to a man who has spent fifty years of his life upon the American stage. The assemblage was a representative one, and Mr. Crane expressed his thorough appreciation of the honor done him by his admirers. Howard Saxby, Sr., presided as toastmaster. The only speech made was that of Mr. Crane, who talked reminiscently of his former visits to this city and of his early appearance at Wood's and the National theaters, now passed out of existence. The luncheon was arranged by Mr. Saxby and Samuel W. Trost, a life-long friend of Mr. Crane."

William H. Crane's companies are noticeable always for the happy family aspect they furnish in the busy theatrical world. Being considerate and the embodiment of kindliness by nature, Mr. Crane always looks to the comfort of his associate players on the tours that are part of the theatrical life with which he has been so prominently identified.

For his particularly long tour this year he will use a private car and the members of the organization will find that traveling by this means is decidedly easier than under the usual methods of transporting a theatrical organization from one end of the country to the other.

Mr. Crane and his excellent company will be seen at the Grand tomorrow night.

SAYS KNUCKS WERE USED

Irvin Timberlake, a shoeworker, reported to the police Saturday evening that James G. Manning, of the Merchants' Collecting Company, had assulted him with a pair of knucks.

Timberlake said he and Manning, who had once garnisheed his wages, were standing in front of the Grand cafe talking, when suddenly, without warning, the other man struck him a violent blow on the neck, then hurriedly entered the saloon and disappeared through a rear entrance. Timberlake wanted to swear out a warrant for Manning's arrest, but after being told he would have to give security for the costs he changed his mind, saying as he went that he felt quite sure that Manning would never strike him in a like manner again.

Rush Work On Reservoir

Work on the reservoir for the water works plant is moving along at a lively clip. Hundreds of people inspected the work Sunday. What ground is not used for this purpose is to be converted into a park. It will be recalled that the city purchased 37 acres of ground from Thomas Basham.

Ironton Agent Here Sunday

C. H. Brown, the N. & W. agent at Ironton, spent Sunday in Portsmouth. According to the changes announced by the N. & W. in an informal way Saturday, Mr. Brown is soon to be transferred to Columbus and his place in Ironton will be filled by Harry Doty of this city.

HUNTERS FAIRLY JAMMED DEPOT

Hunters with their dogs and guns, simply monopolized all available space at the N. & W. depot, Monday morning. There was scarcely place left for women and children to stand. When the various trains pulled in at the depot there was a scramble to get aboard. It was necessary of course, for all the dogs to be placed in the baggage cars, and then there was no place left for trunks and other forms of baggage. When the trains pulled out of the depot, the dogs set up their barks and howls, the deep baying of the reliable old fox hounds sounding like the roar of distant thunder.

All of the hunters were hopeful. The outlook for a good day's sport was never better. The air was crisp, the sun was shining brightly; in fact, all nature was attuned to the joys of the occasion.

BRAKEMAN INJURED SATURDAY

As freight train No. 1095 N. & W., was speeding along Breeden, W. Va., Sunday evening, the engine suddenly became detached from the rest of the train. This severed the air connections, and the sudden stoppage of the train caused Brakeman N. B. Carter of this city to be painfully hurt.

He was in the cab and the impact jostled him against the end of the car, his left shoulder being badly bruised and a deep cut was sustained over his right eye. He was taken on to Williamson and was removed to the N. & W. hospital there.

QUIT CALOMEL!

Thousands Are Turning from this Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after-effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the longsought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-oil colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They oil the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box.

GROWS BEAUTIFUL, HEAVY HAIR WE PROVE IT—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Destroys dandruff—Stops falling hair—Cleans and invigorates your scalp—Delightful dressing.

To be possessed of a head of heavy beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it. Apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp. Danderine is, we believe, the only sure sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

THE AMERICAN EMBASSY IN CONSTANTINOPLE

If the victorious allies start to enter Constantinople it is expected that there will be a general slaughter of foreigners. Provision against such action on the part of the infuriated Turks that it has been possible to make is very meagre. One of the places of safety will be the American Embassy, where hundreds of Christians will seek refuge if the expected massacre is started.

Columbus, Nov. 18—There is to be an interesting contest for clerk of the house of representatives. Harry R. Young, of Marion, who has been assistant clerk for the past two years, and who entered the race for clerk Friday simultaneously with the announcement of the withdrawal of his chief, Charles W. Kempel, who has been a candidate, went to Dayton Friday evening to find out from Governor-elect Cox if he favored any particular candidate for the place. He said he would not remain in the race if the governor-elect should wish some one else in the position. It is not thought likely that the latter will interfere in the contest. John R. Cassidy of Bellefontaine, who was a member of the constitutional convention, is making an active fight for the place. Others may enter now that Kempel is out. Young will command considerable support from the liberal members. W. V. Goshorn, clerk of the senate, will probably be chosen for another term without opposition. Most of the Democratic senators-elect, have declared for him. The chief clerks in the house and senate each receive $2500 a year.

The expense statement filed with the secretary of state by Chairman Brown shows that the Ohio Progressives spent about $60,000 in the recent campaign. This is what the state committee expended and does not include the amounts spent by the various candidates. The statement shows that Dan R. Hanna, of Cleveland, gave $31,000 to the state campaign fund, and that H. H. Timken, of Canton, gave $15,000. A. R. Garford gave $2500. Garford spent a little more than $12,00 since. His official career started about $1,000 in excess of what James M. Cox spent.

The announcement that A. B. Peckinpaugh, of the state tax commission had been chosen by Auditor-elect Vic Donahey to be his chief deputy, is declared to be unauthorized by Mr. Donahey, who gives it out that he has made no appointments. His appointments will not be made until about the time he takes office, which will be on the second Monday in January. The deputy auditorship is the second best place in the department. The salary is about $4500. The auditor gets $6,500. The term is for four years.

Governor-elect Cox, who leads the ticket, will get between 300 and 350 more votes than Attorney General Hogan. Hogan has carried 47 counties and Cox some 31. Hogan ran strong in every college community. He carried every county in the western reserve. The big plurality given Cox in Hamilton county and the counties in his own section of the state gave him his lead over Hogan. Because of his splendid vote friends of the attorney general are already talking of him for governor four years hence.

Lewis Cass Laylin is to get another fat job, if advices from Washington are to be believed. Several months ago the president made Mr. Laylin an assistant secretary of the interior, which place will be filled by a Democrat after March 4. His new job is to be on the industrial commission created by the last congress. As this is a bi-partisan body, Mr. Laylin will probably not be disturbed by the incoming national Democratic administration. Mr. Laylin began holding public office some 30 years ago and he has been working overtime at the job since. His official career started in Huron county, where he served several terms as prosecuting attorney. He ran for the legislature and was elected, serving several terms in that body, being speaker in the last one. He afterwards became secretary of state, serving three terms as such. He then was appointed a member of the Ohio codifying commission, and held that office three years. He was then assigned to some legal work by the attorney general's department. His present place came next. No matter whether the Democrats or the Republicans are in office, it is all the same to Mr. Laylin, his job-holding proclivity never is impaired.

DON'T NEGLECT CATARRH

Even in its early stages Catarrh is a most distressing complaint, known by its symptoms of stuffy feeling in the head and nose, roaring in the ears, mucus in the throat, difficult breathing, etc. When the blood becomes thoroughly polluted with catarrhal matter the inflammation extends to the bronchial tubes, causing hoarseness and often an aggravating cough, the stomach is affected, resulting in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and gradually all the mucous membranes of the body become diseased. Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease and must be treated constitutionally; it is beyond the reach of local treatment. Only temporary relief can ever be had from the use of sprays, washes, etc. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and at the same time building up the entire system. It goes down into the circulation and removes all impurities. Then a pure, nourishing blood circulates through the body, the inflamed membranes heal, all discharges cease and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Don't neglect Catarrh; cure it with S. S. S. as thousands here done. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

PRAYER WEEK IS ENDED

Rev. F. J. Baumann of the German Methodist church, closed the week of prayer services at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services have been more than gratifying to M. H. F. Kinsey, religious director, and others who have taken an active part in the services. Every meeting was a success and the results were marked.

At the service Sunday afternoon Rev. Baumann delivered a powerful sermon on "Quench Not the Thirst." He talked for 30 minutes or more to a large number of men, all of whom were deeply interested.

Rev. B. E. Fishbach, of Cincinnati, was a guest at the Sunday afternoon service.

Campaign For New Members

Bigelow Sunday school has started an enthusiastic campaign for more members and from now until the first of the year there will be something doing in the prosperous church.

The attendance Sunday morning was 530 which, with the exception of one time, when it reached 545, is the greatest enrollment ever held at Bigelow Sunday school. The members will see that the 550 watermark is reached and passed before many more Sundays, and they expect that the increased enrollment will be permanent.

V. S. Shires, of Chillicothe, a son of the late Caleb Shires, veteran shoe drummer, spent Saturday here making some repairs to the big elevator in the B. & O. S.-W. depot.

Was Given Aid.

Mrs. Mary Bush, of No. 1407 Findlay street, was given relief by the city safety department, Saturday. Her only support, a 17-year-old son, is ill and unable to work.

CIRCLEVILLE MILL BURNED SUNDAY, LOSS WAS HEAVY

Circleville, Nov. 16.—Fire Saturday night destroyed the mill, elevator and a warehouse of the Ohio Cereal Company, located in South Court street, a dwelling nearby, partly gutted three residences, and for a time threatened destruction to the business section. A loss of $150,000 was entailed.

The conflagration was the largest in the history of the city and the local fire department was unable to cope with it on account of the low water pressure. The mill was owned by three Smith brothers and was insured for $50,000.

The blaze, which was discovered at 7 o'clock, was due, it is thought, to spontaneous combustion of grain in the drying room. There had been no fire under the boilers in the engine room since 5 o'clock. Five cars loaded with flour, which stood near the warehouse, were removed before the flames reached them.

A second warehouse and a stable were the only buildings of the milling plant which were not destroyed.

In the warehouse, which escaped, over 20,000 bushels of wheat had been stored recently and it was on this structure that the fire-fighters concentrated their efforts.

The mill had a capacity of 1,000 barrels a day and was the largest in Pickaway county. It was established in 1888 and employed 20 men. E. E. Smith last night said it would be rebuilt at once. He scouted the idea of incendiary origin and said he thought the fire started in the drying room.

Hundreds of persons rushed to the scene of the blaze and when it was seen that the six city firemen with the 2500 feet of fire hose which the city owns, was unable to stay the progress of the flames, a bucket brigade was formed and the buildings nearby were drenched. One residence was burned to the ground, and the homes of S. P. Deeds and George Barnes were damaged. A grocery which belonged to George Snyder was partially gutted by the flames.

An hour after the fire started, the Willis Cave saloon, located a square away from the mill, caught fire from flying embers. The blaze was quickly extinguished. In a dozen other places throughout the city flying embers set fire to residences, but no serious damage resulted.

ARM DISCLOATED NINE TIMES

When it comes to having your left shoulder thrown out of place, you will have to hand the palm to Jay Lee Cross of this city. He has had it dislocated nine times. The last time it was thrown out with much severity, as Mr. Cross has been carrying his arm in a sling for six weeks, in the hope of getting permanent relief.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PLANS FOR IT'S ANNIVERSARY

The members of the Second Presbyterian church are planning to celebrate the first anniversary of the dedication of their church on Sunday, December 1. Special services will be held at the Sunday school hour and the morning and evening service. Those in charge of the Sunday school are anxious that the enrollment on that day reach 500. New pupils will be solicited and the pastor, Rev. Robertson, has set the mark of fifty as the smallest number.

Rev. Robertson will deliver a special sermon in the morning and the choir will render a special song service in the evening.

Taken To The Reformatory

BOY SCOUTS WILL MEET TONIGHT

The Boy Scouts will meet with M. H. F. Kinsey on Center street tonight to complete arrangements for the investiture of second class Boy Scouts to be held at the home of John Schlichter, Monday, November 18. The Boy Scouts expect to have a large second class after the meeting next week. Those taking part in the program will be Harry Porter, J. B. Powers and William Hopkins.

The Scouts of the First Presbyterian church held an interesting debate Sunday morning on, "Resolved, That the country is the best place for the development of the boy."

After a lengthy debate with good points made by both sides, the judges decided that the affirmatives had put up the best argument. Carl Helmain and Charlie Buggs represented the affirmative and Gerald Matthews and Harry Blake the negative.

TO ATTEND MEETING

Dr. G. H. Schleh, of Omaha, Neb., traveling lecturer of the Woodmen of the World, and J. H. Brewer, of Louisville, state manager of the order in Kentucky, arrived here Monday afternoon to attend a special meeting of Springville camp at South Portsmouth tonight. The new paraphernalia purchased by the camp will be used for the first time in initiating some candidates.

Odd Fellows Had A Splendid Evening

The annual banquet of the Sciotoville Lodge of Odd Fellows, held Saturday night, was a pleasant affair and a great success.

There was a good attendance and the crowd greatly enjoyed the feast and the program.

After the supper, which was served on the first floor, the members and their guests repaired to the second floor, where the interesting program was rendered. The exercises consisted chiefly of songs, music and speeches.

Rev. W. W. Weiser, pastor of the Sciotoville Methodist church, made the principal address, and his talk was a splendid effort. He was followed by Prof. Davis, of Portsmouth, who gave an interesting talk and then Traglebrecht Nagel, aged 80, the oldest member of the lodge, was heard in a brief talk that was well received.

Lost Their Licenses

George Cole and Ethel White, both colored, secured a license late Saturday afternoon to wed. While strolling along the street the couple lost the important document and they became much excited on discovering their loss and hiked to the court house to demand a new license.

A pedestrian who found the document notified Judge Beaty and it was restored to the couple and they hustled away to have the knot tied, Rev. Mr. Newsome of the A. M. E. church saying the ceremony.
